

Patriot finds buying flag a hard job

Editor's note: May 1 is designated annually as Loyalty Day throughout the United States. It is set aside as a day to remember the importance of patriotism and belief in American ideals, a day when I am a naturalized American citizen, and all I wanted to do was buy an American flag. When I stopped at the K-mart Americans are urged to fly the flag. The following letter was sent to the commander of Westland VFW post recently telling the story of one man's efforts to exhibit his patriotism.

Wonderland store and asked where I could buy an American flag. I was told to go to the toy department. The toy department told me American flags are out of season and can only be bought the 4th of July or before that.

Next, I went to Federal's store at Wonderland and asked where I could buy an American flag; again I was told to go to the toy department. These two stores did not have American flags.

Then, I went to Wonderland's Montgomery Ward; they sent me to the catalog department and I was told it would take two weeks to receive a catalog-ordered American flag.

Now, if I had a friend who was a veteran who had passed away, it would take two weeks before his casket could be draped with an American flag.

So, Ward's recommended I go to Gell's Sporting Goods, but they, too, told me the American flag is out of season.

My next stop was Forest City next to Hudson's Westland store; here I was told I could buy the flag but would also have to buy the pole with it. They would not sell the American flag alone. I told them I already had a pole and all I needed was an American flag since I had to burn my old, battered one.

Finally, I went to J.L. Hudson's and told one of the employees I wanted to buy an American flag and asked where I could get one in this store. I was told to go to the hardware department. At last I finally could buy an American flag — and not in a toy department! I even had the choice between a $20 and a $7.99 flag. I chose to buy one of each.

I am glad I was able to find an American flag in the hardware department instead of the toy department. I could have bought a Taiwan shirt, Japanese camera or Korean basket, but not an American flag, in the other stores.

I wouldn't even mind it if the American flag was made in Taiwan, Japan, Korea, Germany or even Russia — as long as it was an American flag.

City joins in project

Wayne Road to be widened

The much-needed widening of Wayne Road in Romulus moved a step closer to fulfillment last week as city council voted 6-1 to join county and federal agencies in the project.

Councilman Gerry Canejo was the only one to vote against it.

Romulus joined Wayne County and federal agencies in the three-phase, $3,238,000 widening of Wayne Road to five lanes from I-94 to Van Born Road, the entrance to the city on the north.

Last week's Council vote gave approval for the city to enter Phase I of the program, an expenditure of $18,800 to purchase the right-of-way from I-94 to Wick Road.

Based on approval for a Federal Aid Urban System Agreement (FAUS), the purchase of the right-of-way will be on a 60-40 percent basis, with Wayne County paying 60 percent and Romulus 40 percent.

Phase II is from Wick Road to Ecorse Road and Phase III is from Ecorse Road to Van Born Road. Purchase of the right-of-way will cost Romulus $180,800 for Phase II and $200,000 for Phase III.

Federal funds will pay $2,266,600, 70 percent of the construction costs for the entire widening from I-94 to Van Born. Romulus will pay 12 percent of the entire construction costs, which amounts to $76,600 for Phase I, $156,000 for Phase II and $156,000 for Phase III.

Wayne County will pay 18 percent of construction costs for the three-phase project, or a total of $582,800.

In asking Council for permission to join Wayne County and federal programs in getting Wayne Road widened, Mayor William Oakley asked council members for commitment to the entire three-phase project.

"There's no use just going part of the way," he told council. "If we go into it at all, we should commit ourselves to the entire project or not at all."

He got strong support from the council, especially from Mrs. Beverly McAnally and Jimmie Raspberry, who both commented the Wayne Road widening was a long time in coming.

Right-of-way acquisition could begin this year, according to Robert A. Larson, director of transportation for Wayne County Road Commission.

Mayor Oakley was especially pleased to see the city's participation in the project.

"I'm happy the City Council has taken this first step of the Wayne Road widening project, a much-needed improvement," he said.

"If Romulus is to fulfill its potential as a prime industrial, commercial and residential area in Michigan, projects of this nature are of the utmost importance."

"I commend the Council on its foresight in approving Phase I and indicating their commitment to the entire three-phase widening project from I-94 to Van Born Road," Oakley said.

City decides to hold own auction May 13

If you're not able to take part in "the world's largest garage sale", you have to make other arrangements.

That's what the City of Romulus has done in planning an auction sale at 1 p.m. on Saturday, May 13.

Mayor William Oakley had suggested the city sell some of its excess and outdated items in Detroit at what is called "the world's biggest garage sale".

However, when he asked City Council for direction in the matter, the council members favored a "do it yourself" approach. They voted to have Romulus conduct its own auction and garage sale on May 13 at Romulus Fire Station No. 1, Bibbins at Shook.

Everything from paper clips to fire engines will be auctioned off to the highest bidders. The auctioneer for the event will be Rollo Juckette, well-known in this part of Michigan for his selling of items at auctions.

A partial list of items to be sold includes street signs, 13 cars and trucks, five calculators, polaroid cameras, typewriters, office furniture and books.

Also, snowblades, flanges, rings and parts, radios, vacuum cleaners, fire trucks, a Trojan end loader and many more items.

Neighboring communities have shown interest and will have some items in the auction and garage sale. Although most items will be auctioned off, some will be priced in garage-sale fashion.

For more information, call the Mayor's office, 941-0666.

School board candidates share views

Thirteen candidates running for five seats on the Romulus School Board in the June 12 election expressed their views at a "Meet the Candidates Night" at city hall last Thursday evening. The well attended forum was sponsored jointly by The Romulus Roman and We, the People, a non-

Residency deadline okayed

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

City Council has finally agreed on a date that city employees must start residing in Romulus.

At last week's meeting the Council voted 5-2 to make the deadline Nov. 14, 1978, one year to the date of Mayor William M. Oakley's inauguration.

Mary Carter made the motion and was supported by Ray Cantrell. Voting in agreement were Junior Block, Jimmie Raspberry and Mary Ann Banks. Beverly McAnally and Gerry Canejo cast dissenting votes.

The residency requirement for city employees was tossed around by City Council for quite some time before the decision last week. Some observers, including some council members, felt its current enforcement was politically motivated.

Some even went so far as to say enforcement of the residency requirement was a way to "get back" at City Assessor David Krause. He lives outside the city and has become the target of dissatisfaction for many residents because of the recent tax reassessment.

Others said that if people work in Romulus they should live here.

After the resignation of Eugene Yagley from the Grants Department two weeks ago, there were only seven city employees not residing within the city limits.

All of them told Council of their intentions in a closed-door hearing which Beverly McAnally called illegal and walked out on.

In last week's Roman, a story on the residency rule told of Aaron Jones, federal programs coordinator, also resigning his city post.

He made it clear this week that his only reason for leaving Romulus was to accept a job with the City of Detroit.

"An article in last week's Romulus Roman strongly suggested that I resigned the position of Federal Programs Coordinator for the City of Romulus because of the City Council's residency ordinance," Jones said this week.

"Nothing could be further from the truth. I made it very clear in a closed session with the Council that I agreed with the basic philosophy of municipal employees residing within the communities in which they are employed, and that I would establish a Romulus residence."

"I also stated to the Council that I would not jeopardize my career or livelihood over such a frivolous issue."

Jones had declined to make an earlier statement on the residency requirement.

AARON JONES

"I declined to make an earlier statement, because in my judgment my best interests would not be served by being a willing participant in the mental gymnastics being performed by well-known parties in the community," Jones said.

Jones said it was and is his position to stand alone in regards to this issue.

"I care not to be directly or indirectly identified with any group or individual in regards to residency."

"My decision to resign was based primarily on a lucrative offer from the City of Detroit. In this era of increased federal assistance to cities, persons who possess similar technical competencies and educational training are in tremendous demand," Jones said.

"It is coincidental that Detroit's offer came at a time when the residency issue became a focal point of attention."

"Leaving Romulus was not an easy decision," said Jones, whose resignation took effect last Wednesday.

"The majority of my experiences here were of a very positive nature. I was more than satisfied in my position of Federal Programs Director."

"I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to Mayor Oakley, city employees and various citizens for being so kind and warm during my tenure as a city employee," Jones said.

New board cuts millage

Romulus School Board voted last week to reduce the debt retirement tax levy by 2.35 mills because of increased state equalized value of property and a balance in the fund.

The new level will be 3.00 mills for debt retirement. One mill equals $1 per every $1,000 of state equalized property value.

In other action, board member Mrs. Lynn E. Slaughter resigned but the vacancy is not expected to be filled because of the school election June 12.

The board also voted to restore a full 6-hour day for grades 1-12 beginning in September.

'Nature' study

Teacher Pat Richards had her fifth grade students at Tyler Elementary School study rocks lately in a project geared to engender their knowledge of the multi-shaped objects. Mrs. Lydia Hearn, a local artist who has travelled around the country teaching art and doing wire sculptures, taught the class. Chuckie Wright is shown here with a wire tree creation on a rock called "wind-swept" because it sways with the slightest wind. "My math class went wild wanting to do this art project," she said. "We learned the terms symmetrical, meaning balanced, and "A" symmetrical (meaning slightly unbalanced)." Ms. Richards had her class study all kinds of rocks and what they would be used for, building, tombstones or other things. She said the project was one of the most useful and instructional she has ever undertaken with a class. — ANP photo.

CAC visits capital

The Citizens Advisory Council and Alumni Association of Wayne County Community College will join forces for a trip to visit with state legislators in Lansing Tuesday.

The purpose of this, the sixth annual trip to the State Capitol by the combined citizens groups, will be to "remind the individuals who make the laws that people are the purpose, and the motivating force behind WCCC", according to a group spokesperson. The trip has been proposed to demonstrate an en masse support for continued legislative interest in the college, as well as to advise state representatives and other leaders of the specific needs of Wayne County Community College and the diversified service area populace it serves.

Wayne County Community College, currently the largest of Michigan's 29 public community colleges, also is the state's fastest growing two-year institution. Founded in 1967 and fully accredited by the North Central Association of Schools and Colleges in 1976, the college's rapid expansion has been unrivalled, presently serving a student body of more than 20,000. Projections have indicated an even further upsurge in growth at WCCC with the realization of the college's five-year master facilities plan, which will supplement the currently decentralized, 23 instructional center sites with five regional campus sites throughout the Wayne County area. At present, the second major campus project is scheduled for completion in Taylor this fall, to be followed by the Downtown Regional Center by the spring of 1979.

"We view the upcoming trip to Lansing as a major opportunity to voice student, alumni and citizen concerns" said Detroit City Council President Erma L. Henderson, general chairperson of the Citizens Advisory Council. "Our membership is growing with the college, and these are the people who truly comprise the community."

Composed of volunteer members of the Wayne County Community College service areas, the Citizens Advisory Council was established in 1970. Its purpose since that time has included transmission of information about WC3 to the community at large, serving as an informational arm for the Board of Trustees, as well as formulating recommendations regarding general policy making and operation of the college. An ongoing, major goal of the council also has been the continued fostering of community support for the college and its students.

"This is what emphasizes the word 'community' in the name of WC3", remarked a Citizens Advisory Council member. "Our own trip to Lansing will be filled with individuals who want to get that message across, and we plan to do it again, better than ever before, this year. We're welcoming all who wish to join us on this special day."

Further information with regard to the Citizens Advisory Council-Alumni Association trip to Lansing is available by calling 832-1237.

There are some advantages in assuming an existing mortgage on a home. The chief advantage for the buyer is the lower interest rate the mortgage usually carries. Many outstanding loans carry five percent, 5 1/2 percent or 6 percent interest rates compared to the higher rates in effect today. You can also cut down closing costs when you assume a mortgage. Some mortgages, however, contain a clause preventing such take-overs by requiring full repayment of the mortgage in the event of sale. We can offer expert advice in all aspects of home financing.

Lack of consensus stalls transit package

Some $600 million in federal money allocated for public transportation in the tri-county area remains untouched due to a lack of consensus among Southeast Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) communities, according to Marvin Meltzer, SEMTA's public affairs director.

Speaking before approximately two dozen Wayne County officials in Romulus recently, Meltzer said before any federal funds are released there must be a general consensus among SEMTA's 15-member Board of Directors on a public transportation plan for the tri-county area of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

The issue was critical at the time of the Romulus meeting due to Oakland County's threat to pull out of SEMTA. However, a meeting between Gov. William Milliken, Detroit Mayor Coleman Young and Dan Murphy, chief executive of Oakland County, seemed to resolve differences that caused Oakland commissioners to want to pull out of SEMTA.

Mayor William M. Oakley, who hosted the meeting at which Meltzer spoke, credited a resolution adopted by the Wayne County officials as possibly helping Oakland County commissioners to have change of heart.

"We adopted a resolution at our meeting which strongly urged Oakland to stay in SEMTA, since their pullout would destroy the balance of power on the SEMTA board between out-county and Detroit representatives," Oakley said.

The SEMTA board currently consists of 15 members, five from Detroit, three from Wayne County, three from Oakland, three from Macomb County and two from the outlying counties.

The consensus needed to tap into the $600 million is in jeopardy, according to Mayor Oakley "because many communities, including Romulus, believe they are being overlooked when SEMTA establishes public transportation services and priorities."

"We have heard SEMTA officials, time and again, state that Romulus is high on their priority list, yet we continue to be by-passed and the public transportation needs of our citizens, especially the elderly and handicapped, overlooked," Oakley continued. "For this reason I am also pursuing other alternatives, including running our own system or hooking in with other regional systems."

Several officials present indicated that another cause of discord among the SEMTA membership had been due to Mayor Young's insistence on a subway system for Detroit as part of the overall regional plan. This has been reflected in Lansing, where a multi-faceted transportation package is languishing because many legislators are not convinced of the necessity of a Detroit subway.

That package also would affect the disbursement of the $600 million, since another string attached is a federal and state mix of 80-20 percent funding.

Young's proposed subway would cost approximately $1.2 billion, well in excess of the $600 million allocated for the entire area.

Meltzer concluded his presentation by announcing that a preliminary report will be given in July and a final transportation plan formed by the end of this year.

In other business, the group agreed to elect officers at their next meeting to be held at the Allen Park City Hall on May 10 and to establish an agenda for the coming year. It also was announced that Jim Krug, one of the most effective lobbyists in Lansing, will speak to the group, describing his role and function to municipal leaders.

Discussing SEMTA

Marvin Meltzer (left), director of public affairs for the Southeast Michigan Transportation Authority, spoke recently in Romulus to members of the Wayne County Elected Officials Association.

Mayor William M. Oakley, who hosted Meltzer's visit, is shown discussing a need for SEMTA to provide bus transportation in Romulus.

In Brief-

Spring fair

There will be all kinds of fun at Harrison Community Center, 14701 Harrison, Romulus this Saturday as Cub Scout Pack 1739 holds its Spring Fair from 12 to 4 p.m.

Fun events like dog rides, cake walk, raffles and movies will take place, and popcorn, hot dogs and other things will be sold to munch on.

Sponsors of the event say there will be lots of prizes, lots of games, fun for the whole family. "Come one, come all!" is the invitation to the party this Saturday with all proceeds going to Cub Pack 1739.

Call 941-1541 or 941-6931 for more information.

Improving

A major improvement is underway at Oakwoods Metropark, a 1,770-acre site near Flat Rock, where the 2-lane 2½ miles of interior park road, parking lot and a tenth of a mile of service drive will be paved this spring.

It was announced by William E. Kreger, who represents Wayne County on the seven-member Board of Commissioners of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

A contract in the amount of $73,944.06 has been awarded for this project to the Thompson-McCully Co. of Belleville.

The improvement will better service visitors at the park, where the major facilities are a large nature center building, several labelled nature trails, shore fishing, picnic areas and park roads.

Bear hugs: Fire fighters cheer young burn patients

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus fire fighters not only save lives, but go a step further in brightening the lives of burn victims who are pulled from the flames.

Bear hugs

Romulus volunteer firefighters and Fire Chief John Wilhide have joined Good Bears of the World, a non-profit organization, which donates teddy bears to child patients at burn centers in the area. Wilhide (above) and 55 other fireman from the four fire stations in Romulus take part in the program. They hope other area firefighters will join in the Good Bears program. — ANP photo by Tom Greenwood.

In a new program called "Good Bears of the World", Fire Chief John Wilhide and his 56-man volunteer firefighting crew donate teddy bears to patients at local burn centers.

"We bought teddy bears for the Ann Arbor Burn Center at University of Michigan Hospital and also sent them to St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor," Wilhide said.

Each of the four fire stations in Romulus took part in the venture and each received a letter thanking them for their generosity. The letter expressed the hope that other area fire departments would get involved in the "Good Bears" program.

Wilhide said the teddy bears are sterilized and put in a plastic bag before they're given to burn victims. This is done to avoid the possibility of infection.

The local chapter of Good Bears hopes to expand its program to furnish games and other things to older burn victims.

Wilhide said a local Romulus woman started the program but wants to remain anonymous.

"She feels some might think she's doing it for the publicity," the fire chief said in honoring her wish to remain unidentified.

"She does a really great job though, and we appreciate what she's done to get us involved in the program."

The local woman got involved in the program a few months back and approached Wilhide for his help.

"It's been very rewarding to all the fellows in the fire department and they have worked hard to make it a success," Wilhide said.

For their efforts, the local fire fighters received a letter from the headquarters of Good Bears of the Word in Honolulu, Hawaii. Jim Ownby, chairman of the group, expressed his gratitude for Romulus' participation in the program.

The letterhead reads "Good Bears of the World, a non-profit organization dedicated to extending love and companionship to children of all ages through the distribution of teddy bears."

People who would like to help in the project to send teddy bears to burn victims can call Wilhide's office at 941-0666, ext. 51, for information.

And even Smokey the Bear would tip his cap for your generosity.

Family Affair Night spotlights gardening

"Gardening is a Family Affair Nite", will be held at the Thomas J. Coleman Center, 35351 Beverly Road, Romulus, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. on Friday.

The purpose of the event is to sign up families for the vacant lots that are available for vegetable gardening. There will be a film on vegetable gardening and a gardening game.

In addition, the program also will offer five workshops: Insect Identification, Other Pests, Spacing Plants, Harvesting and Food and Nutrition. Each workshop will be held on Thursday from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. May 25 through June 22.

The program is sponsored jointly by the American Progressive Association and the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service, 4-H Youth Program.

Program assistant Henrietta Lake urged as many Romulus residents as possible to take part in the garden program. She also is looking for volunteer leaders for the program.

Several benefits were listed, including the fact that each family in the garden program could:

- Save money by stretching food dollars;
- Give your family better foods for less money;

- Learn all about gardening, canning, freezing foods, meal planning, nutrition and other things;
- Get new ideas and receipts for fruits and vegetables;

- Improve your community and neighborhood;

- Work on a project with your whole family; and

- Make friends with other gardeners.

"The Family Affair gardening program is just one of many education activities sponsored by Michigan State University's Cooperative Extension Service in Wayne County," Mrs. Mears said.

Cooperative Extension Service Programs are open to all without regard to race, color, creed or national origin, she added.

City-owned lots in Romulus will be made available to Family Affair participants through a special grant from the City of Romulus to the American Progressive Association.

For more information, call Mrs. Lake at 721-3410 or 721-6576.

To protect inland lakes

County official backs pollution discharge ban

The engineering director for the Wayne County Board of Public Works has endorsed a proposed regional water quality management plan that calls on the state to prohibit discharge of pollutants into inland lakes and streams.

Duane R. Egeland spoke at a hearing, sponsored by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) April 18, in the City-County Building auditorium.

"Had the SEMCOG policy been in effect two years ago, it would have prevented the pollution of the precious recreational waters of Belleville Lake and the Huron River that continues to this day," Egeland told the hearing. "Belleville Lake almost certainly would not be closed to swimming, as it was last summer."

Egeland said the SEMCOG report indicates that the sewage treatment plants at Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti

"appear to be the source of the Belleville Lake pollution."

He described the decision by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to permit continued operation and expansion of the two plants in Washtenaw County as "a disastrous mistake."

"Those two plants are the only logical source of the pollution that has degraded Belleville Lake," he said, predicting: "The degradation of Belleville Lake and the lower Huron River will accelerate when those two plants reach their maximum designed capacity in less than 20 years."

The proposed SEMCOG policy contained in the seven-county regional agency's tentative Water Quality Management Plan, calls on the state to prohibit sewage treatment plant discharge into inland lakes and streams unless it can be demonstrated that the discharge will not have a detrimental effect on the water quality.

Egeland urged that the policy be made even stronger by demanding that it be "conclusively" demonstrated that water quality will not be degraded.

"We hope that this policy will preclude the continued operation of inland treatment plants which discharge into the Middle Rouge River system," he added.

Egeland cited a section of the SEMCOG water quality plant which reported that Ford and Belleville lakes down stream from Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti were surveyed by SEMCOG on nine occasions.

The SEMCOG report described the Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti plants and the Ypsilanti Community Utilities Authority as "probable significant sources" of nutrients which promote lake-choking algae growth.

Referring to the EPA's approval of the two plants, the SEMCOG report stated:

"As a result of this decision, the algal and nutrient problems in Ford Lake and Lake Belleville will not improve..."

Egeland told the hearing that the proposed SEMCOG call for State prohibition of the pollutant discharge into inland lakes and streams "is consistent with the sound principles of wastewater management that have guided our agency's planning of the Huron Valley Wastewater Control System."

Following any revisions resulting from the public hearings, the proposed SEMCOG Water Quality Management Plan will be considered for adoption by the regional agency's general assembly.

'We hope that this policy will preclude the continued operation of inland treatment plants...'

Jubilee recipes printed

The "Ford Diamond Jubilee Recipe Collection", an unusual volume of more than 600 recipes from leading U.S. and Canadian restaurants, has been published by the Ford Consumer Publications Department to commemorate the automaker's 75th anniversary.

The recipes are taken principally from the Ford Times Magazine feature, "Favorite Recipes from Famous Restaurants," prepared by the magazine's food and fashion editor, Nancy Kennedy. Ford Times is a travel magazine distributed by Ford dealers and has a circulation of 1.7 million copies monthly.

The special anniversary publication follows six previous Ford Times cookbooks, now out of print and considered collectors' items. More than 750,000 copies of the previous cookbooks were sold.

The recipes range from the quick-and-easy to the more exotic and complex, and run the gamut from appetizers to desserts. For easy reference, the book is divided into 20 categories such as Pancakes, Crepes and Fritters, Pickles, Relishes and Preserves and Breads and Muffins.

The 176-page hard-cover volume also includes stories on gourmet and game cooking in camp, and the variety of regional and ethnic foods found in the United States and Canada.

The "Ford Diamond Jubilee Recipe Collection" is available at selected Detroit-area bookstores, or by sending a $4.95 check or money order, payable to FORD BOOKS, Box 60, Dearborn 48121.

Fisher assigned to 1st Calvary Division

Pvt. William D. Fisher, the son of Mrs. Vi Fisher of Marie Street, Ecorse, and James Fisher Jr. of LaGrand, Romulus, recently was assigned as an infantryman with the 1st Calvary Division at Ft. Hood, Tex.

Fisher entered the Army in December 1975. The private is a 1975 graduate of Huron High School in New Boston.

Also in the armed forces: Airman I.C. John W. Weipert, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Skolnik of Van Buren, Belleville, has arrived for duty at Ramstein Air Base, Germany.

Airman Weipert, a nuclear

weapons specialist with a unit of the U.S. Air Forces in Europe, previously served at K.I. Sawyer Air Force Base, Mich.

The airman is a 1975 graduate of Belleville High School.

Mrs. Alice Cosselman, a counselor at Belleville High School, left April 17 for Denver, Colo., on a three-day Air Force-sponsored educator tour.

"The tour is designed to acquaint high school educators with educational and training opportunities offered by the Air Force," said M. Sgt. Cecil White, Air Force area recruiting supervisor.

During the tour of Lowry Air Force Base, Mrs. Cosselman visited several classrooms, where she observed men and women in various phases of their Air Force training.

Airman Rodger G. Holland, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger C. Holland of Sibley Road, Romulus, has been assigned to Chaunte Air Force Base, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations. Completion of this training earned him credits towards an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman Holland now will receive specialized training in the aircraft equipment maintenance field.

The airman is a 1978 graduate of Woodhaven High School, Flat Rock.

The first-place winner couldn't make it, so second-place winner Steven Roe showed up to accepting his wins — state lottery tickets — in the 11th week of Associated Newspapers' Lottery Lafts Contest. Winning the weekly contest was

Press aides 'talk'

The press secretaries from the last four presidents before Jimmy Carter are brought together for discussion on the public television special "Some of the President's Men," May 20 at 8 p.m. on Channel 56.

The four former press secretaries are Pierre Salinger (Kennedy), George Reedy (Johnson), Ron Ziegler (Nixon) and Ron Nessen (Ford). The men will answer questions about the inner workings of the executive branch and the roles they played during the major confrontations between the Presidents and the press.

Moderating the panel discussion will be Elie Abel, who is the dean of the Columbia School of Journalism.

Mull stars on 56

Martin Mull, comedian and star of the nightly talk show "America 2-Night" provides music and laughs on "Soundstage" May 15, at 9 p.m. on Channel 56.

Mull shares the spotlight with the comedy team of Flo (short for Florescent Leech) & Eddie, who formerly were members of the singing group the Turtles. They had a chance later to show their comic abilities as members of the Mothers of Invention, the infamous group headed by Frank Zappa.

This "Soundstage" concert was recorded two years ago, before Mull's success on "Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman" and, later, "Fernwood 2-Night." For "Soundstage," Mull has assembled an odd-ball assortment of music and fun entitled "Sixty Minutes to Kill."

Featured in the show is an interview with Mull's favorite performer (Mull, of course) and the "Midnight Satchel," a late-night rock show for hip letter carriers featuring Mailman Jack.

Editorial opinions

Dam good idea

Van Buren Township was elated with the news this week that it will receive a federal grant of $31,000 for a study of Edison Dam.

And approval of the money to research the dam as a power source is a harbinger of good things to come.

In addition to the valuable grant, other steps are being taken to rid Belleville Lake (nee Edison Lake) of its recreation-stifling, business-killing pollution.

State Majority Leader William Faust has notified local officials that the University of Michigan will conduct an 18-month study of the recreational body of water that will cost $271,300. Included in the study will be regular sampling of the lake as well as creating a computer model to simulate the conditions of Belleville Lake at any given time on any given day.

We feel this is a step in the right direction -- but only a step. Constant vigilance of the lake is vital if it is to remain a tourist attraction as well as recreational facility for our citizens.

After all, the lake does belong to Van Buren Township. The citizens of Belleville, which borders the southern edge of the water, also have a vested interest in its purity.

Adding his influence to the scene is newly-appointed County Commissioner R. William Joyner, whose district includes the communities surrounding Belleville Lake.

Joyner has only been serving a short time but has made his presence known in several areas of interest on behalf of his constituents. This includes support of Faust's efforts to get the Dept. of Natural Resources to constantly monitor the lake for pollutants.

However, we feel that Van Buren Clerk Doreen Craven's resolution, passed by the Township Board, is the best idea so far.

The resolution calls for the Washtenaw and Wayne County Health Departments to begin immediate hourly testing on a 24-hour basis at all industrial facilities and municipal wastewater treatment plants bordering on Belleville Lake in Wayne County until such time as the source of pollution is located.

All the foregoing is a sign of better things to come for Belleville Lake. But only if local residents and their elected representatives roll up their sleeves and say: "Stop polluting our lake!"

We think Senator Faust put it best when he said, "I will do everything in my power to take these lakes from the polluters and return them to the citizens who love the lakes so dearly."

Every local resident should feel the same way.

Romulus potential closer

Last week's decision by the Romulus City Council to join with county and federal agencies to widen Wayne Road from I-94 to Van Born is a positive step toward bringing the city much closer to realizing its full potential.

We commend the members of council on their foresight and vision.

It is no secret to anyone, either within Romulus or the entire Metropolitan area, that a great potential exists in the community for continued economic development.

Utilizing the airport as the catalyst for such development, it is not difficult to visualize a future for the community based on the airport and the industry that would and could benefit from close proximity to the facility.

Up until now, one of the major stumbling blocks to the eventual full development of Romulus has been the uncanny ability of the community to make itself look foolish in the eyes of any potential developers.

Following the last election in Romulus, it appears to us that some measure of stability has been returned to the city.

That new stability, and non-political decision-making, will lead to the eventual success of the city, and help it become known as the home of Romulus International Airport.

We salute 'We the People'

For the second time in the past year, Romulus' We the People and this newspaper joined forces to sponsor a Meet the Candidates night.

We feel the effort by those concerned citizens of Romulus who are 'We the People' should not go without recognition.

All too often, the citizens of a community fall into the habit of non-involvement. That attitude is rationalized on the basis of the individual's heavy schedule, and family commitments. It is fortunate for democracy, that everyone does not assume that position.

It is the people of the community who do get involved that make the difference. We often hear people cry that their one voice can make little difference in the overall scheme of things, but the record of groups such as We the People have proven that a few dedicated citizens can accomplish a great deal.

The 'We the People' organization, started just over a year ago by concerned citizens of Romulus, boasts a membership of about 50. But like most groups, it is a dedicated few who accomplish most of the work.

Midge Prybyla, Grace Boc, and Dick Campbell have been the force behind the modest success experienced by the group. We think that every interested citizen of Romulus should become involved. That is, of course, not intended to minimize the contribution to We the People by all of the current members.

Associated Newspapers commends the people of Romulus who have cared enough about their town to get involved.

We salute 'We the People'.

From your lawmakers

PBB symptom: Lack of coordination

The Majority Leader
State Senator William Faust
13th District

One of the major problems Michigan witnessed during the recent PBB crisis was the lack of coordination and unity that existed in our government's approach to identifying the crisis and finding a solution for it. The lack of coordination was apparent in the relationship between the Governor and the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

In January, I introduced legislation that would not only require accountability on the part of the Director of Agriculture, but would help bring about better and faster solutions to any future crises of this nature. Specifically, this legislation would give the Governor power to appoint the Director of Agriculture and would require Senate confirmation of that appointment.

Presently the Governor is required to appoint members of the Michigan Agriculture Commission consisting of five members, all of whom are subjected to Senate confirmation. The Agriculture Commission is then responsible for appointing the Director of Agriculture who serves at the pleasure of the Commission.

This situation has failed to provide any accountability to the people of Michigan. Furthermore, it has tied the hands of those people who are elected to serve you and who are responsible for protecting the interests of the state and its citizens.

Senate Bills 1258 would not only retain the Governor's authority to appoint the members of the Agriculture Commission, but would require the Governor to appoint the Director of Agriculture, subject to Senate confirmation.

By giving the Governor power to appoint the Director of Agriculture, the Director would serve at the pleasure of the Governor. In situation such as the PBB crisis, the Director would be directly accountable to the Governor and could be removed from office if the Governor determined that the best interests of the state were not being protected.

Additionally, Senate confirmation of that appointment would assure that any appointee recommended by the Governor is qualified to assume the post. Senate confirmation would eliminate any remote possibility that the Governor could appoint an individual as a political favor without adequate consideration of their qualifications.

During the most crucial period of the PBB crisis, there was confusion, dissension and an obvious disregard for citizens by state officials. The 79th Legislature has achieved relative success in making government and elected officials more responsible to the people. Accountability must now be required of appointed state officials.

I would appreciate hearing your views on these proposals which are now before the Senate State Affairs Committee. Please address all correspondence to me at the State Capitol, Box 30036, Lansing, Michigan 48909.

Editor's Log

Corporate conscience also lacking

By DENNIS FASSETT
Managing Editor

Last week in this column I discussed the apparent contradiction that existed between the UAW's position on plant closings and company boycotts.

A recent issue of 'Solidarity' magazine, the UAW's vehicle for communication with its membership, contained a well written piece on the trauma that workers experienced when they were the victims of a plant closing. On the back page of that same issue was a plea to UAW members to boycott a long list of companies that were not responsive to the UAW's organization attempts.

I felt that the obvious connection between the plant closings and the plant boycotts should be made. That is not to say that business and industry are not above criticism regarding their treatment of workers. Quite possibly, the existence of the UAW's testimony to the fact that some employers have been reluctant to provide workers with even the most basic human needs.

While the record books abound with examples of corporate callousness, it would be impossible to even adequately begin the list within the confines of this space. But one recent example, affecting local people, is provided below. Equal time, as it were, for all of the labor unions who have promoted the welfare of this nation's workers.

Paul Johnson, age 25, was successfully pursuing his chosen career in earth sciences in Nebraska.

At this point in time, the field that Johnson had chosen for himself was experiencing a mini-boom with many of the larger U.S. corporations making the decision to become involved. That being the case, many of those corporations began a raid on their fellow companies in order to find qualified people to man their new departments.

Johnson, along with many of his co-workers, soon found himself with several job offers from some of these companies just entering the new business arena. Johnson's best offer came from the Bendix Corporation's division in Ann Arbor.

Johnson can be considered a typical American with the traditional view that hard work will be rewarded. He accepted the Bendix offer, moved his family to Michigan, and finally located in Westland.

The new job was a stimulating challenge. With his youthful vigor, and eye toward advancement, Johnson plunged into his new work.

Within the newly-formed department, Johnson was joined by other faces new to the company, as well as some seasoned corporate veterans.

The company had spared little expense in its effort to get into the new potential markets, and the people that were to make up the new department were considered to be some of the best.

Because the department was small and dealt with a specialized science, the members felt a common bond and eventually formed a close working group, representing more than 50 years of combined experience in their specialties.

With the passage of time, the bright future predicted for the new department dwindled to a mere hope of continuing existence.

The Bendix division was apparently unable to effectively manage the potential of the new science, and more and more of the work was being done by Bendix competitors.

Following five years of Bendix employment and unknown by Johnson, the company made the decision to get out of the earth science business.

While members of Johnson's department had faced the reality of the declining orders, the prospect of layoff had always seemed to be remote. Besides, company policy provided for severance pay in the event that employees were letout.

But, a large corporation that makes the rules, can certainly change the rules, and Bendix proceeded to do just that.

In February of 1978, the corporation made the announcement that the policy covering severance pay was to be changed.

In the future, any employee who was a part of a group that was either sold or transferred to another company would no longer be eligible for severance pay.

Two weeks later, the Bendix division announced that Johnson's department would be transferred to another company, and any employee who refused to transfer with the department would have to quit, thereby sacrificing his severance pay, and also his right to collect unemployment benefits. The policy change had saved the corporation more than $25,000.

In defense of the Bendix Corporation, it could be argued that it did not have to provide anyone with severance pay, but it was not Johnson that sought them, it was Bendix that had sought Johnson. And, a part of the enticement Johnson felt for the Bendix offer, had been based on the benefits package that Bendix boasted of, containing the severance pay clause.

To many, the image of unionism strikes fear in the heart. To others, unionism represents the salvation of the working man. The truth probably lies somewhere in between.

Unions, not unlike large corporations, are neither all bad nor all good. And the image represented by either is generally in the experienced eye of the beholder.

But, as long as there are people in either unions or corporations who feel that people should be manipulated, neither institution will gain the respect they so ardently strive for.

Rec conditions are criticized

To the Editor:

I find it difficult to believe the condition of the recreation program in Romulus.

Last year, themen's (softball) league had two umpires per game and an association that did a good job. This year the association did not come back. This year the league has one umpire per game and a new association. The entry fee for last year and this year is $200. Where is this extra money going when we're paying for one umpire less? Why did we lose last years umpires?

I also coach a womens team in Romulus.

Last year the Jaycees helped run the league they had started. This year the city insists on running the program by itself.

Why can't the city work with the Jaycees? It seems the city won't put forth the effort to organize the league but hasn't any problem taking over someone else's successful idea. Then the city complains about people and service organizations that do not want to become involved.

When they are involved and it's successful the city steps in and takes it away.

There are other things that are wrong as men's and women's games on the same field and day, playing games one Friday of the month, incomplete schedules, late schedules, etc., the list is endless and chaotic at best.

As you can see it's time for some answers.

Millage vote lauded

To the Editor:

April 24, 1978 will surely be recorded as a very important date for the residents of the Van Buren School district, for on that date the Van Buren students were "given a chance" by the voters -- only for one year -- but a chance nevertheless.

Many people worked hard and long to get this millage vote passed. However, it was the inspiration and leadership of one special man that made this community effort a reality.

While every parent and teacher must have agonized over the deterioration of our schools, only Mike Mlsna stepped forward and volunteered to organize a citizens group to study the issues and inform the citizenry regarding the true situation. Every resident of this school district owes him a huge debt of gratitude.

Aren't we lucky to have people like Mike Mlsna living in our community!

Schools aid handicapped

To the Editor:

As a member of the Parent Advisory Committee of Wayne County Intermediate School District and Van Buren School District, I am interested in sharing with others information on what the schools are doing for handicapped infants, preschoolers, children, and young adults. In particular, I am interested in supporting Project Find activities.

As a result of the Mandatory Special Education Act and Federal laws, public schools provide various services and programs for persons from birth through twenty-five years of age who have possible vision, hearing, speech, language, learning, physical-health, or emotional problems. Programs for very young children may include home teaching.

Many parents do not hear of these services which include free evaluation and other school services for children suspected of having a problem until their child enters school.

Help your child get an early start. Call your local school district Special Services Department or Project Find in Wayne County at 381-4188 or in Detroit at 832-1850.

Bald Eagle Speaks

The Price is right?

By BOB AMEEN

Every once in a while something happens or an utterance is made by somebody in the limelight that makes one wonder if he is on the right planet.

Case in point: A young black basketball player, a star in his Detroit high school, enrolls at Michigan State University and is instrumental as a freshman in leading that school to its first Big Ten championship in many years.

The young man is a acknowledged nationwide as being an outstanding athlete, one of the best players to come along in years, and with almost unlimited potential in the next few years.

As is the case with other superstars, he finds that his fame has earned him an opportunity to play in the professional ranks for a lot of money, more than he could ever dream of making in any profession after his graduation, should he decide to remain in school and earn a degree.

Under current basketball regulations, an athlete can apply for approval as a "hardship case", meaning that he can leave school and go directly into professional sports without continuing his education, if he meets certain economic requirements.

This young man in question had sports writers across the nation on pins and needles while they waited anxiously to see what he would do as the deadline to apply drew near.

Would he apply and forsake his educational career for the huge sum of money that inevitably would come his way, or would he deign to continue his education?

The deadline passed and the young cage star announced he would continue to attend MSU for at least another year. But — he also announced that he had been made an offer by a professional basketball team of $1.5 million in a multi-year contract which he had turned down.

Why did this young black superstar decide not to go pro? To finish school and get that coveted degree for moral and ethical reasons? Absolutely not!

He told one and all that the $1.5 million figure was "too low" and that he would wait another year.

What has this nation come to that a young man, who when he graduates can begin working at $14,000 to $15,000 a year in his chosen field if he is lucky, chooses to turn down an annual salary of several hundred thousand dollars? Keep in mind that basketball players only perform for about a half of a year on the pro circuit.

One of the leading sports commentators on radio and television in Detroit said he would not blame the young athlete if he chose to follow a professional career and forsake his education now. He said he could always come back a few years later and get the degree.

That latter action would be understandable. But, the young man's reason of not enough money is preposterous!

Before going to MSU, this athlete could not have earned much more than $3 per hour at part-time jobs while going to high school. For him not to look down his nose at the astronomical $1.5 million smacks of downright ignorance and ingratitude for the cards which life is dealing him in the prime of his life.

Thousands of young men across the nation would have figuratively given their right arm for such an opportunity. Evidently, this particular teenager has learned the meaning of the word "greed" early in life.

This man, Earvin Johnson, could learn a lot from another member of his own race, John Long, an outstanding senior member of the University of Detroit basketball team.

Long was a star in high school in Romulus and then went on to become one of the nation's leading scorers and one of the mainstays of the U of D Titans.

Although a top cager, Long is not considered in the same league with Johnson, who many proclaim to be on the fringe of superstardom. Whether Long could have turned pro before leaving college is questionable. He decided to pursue his education. That decision is to his credit.

Had Johnson chosen to turn pro, that decision would also have been to his credit. His disdain of the proffer made to him is not.

It would seem that Johnson, while possibly a better basketball player than Long, could learn a lot from the Titan star in the way to commonsense and appreciation of how to best use that which the good Lord has given him.

National Hospital Week

To your good health

By RUSS TUTTLE
Director, Community Relations
Peoples Community Hospital Authority

Each year, hospitals throughout the Country celebrate National Hospital Week (NHW); the observation this year is from May 7 through May 13.

According to Lawrence T. Riesser, Administrator of the PCHA Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, one purpose of NHW is to allow community hospitals the opportunity to thank its employees for the work done during the year, and to encourage hospital-community relations.

Riesser said, "The theme this year is 'Hospitals Wish You Well'. We'd like to take this occasion to remind people that good health doesn't just happen — it takes effort.

"We hope that NHW will signal the need to change unhealthy life-style patterns such as smoking, eating or drinking too much, getting too little rest or exercise, or neglecting routine medical recommended by your family doctor.

"NHW is an appropriate time to start doing what you can to stay in good health," he concluded.

In response to this year's celebration, Annapolis Hospital is sponsoring a 5-day open house for the public where free health tests will be administered, tours of the hospital arranged, and education sessions conducted. I want to use my column inches today to publish the schedule of events planned for NHW.

Wade C. Adams, Assistant Administrator at Annapolis, said, "All of the public information sessions and the testing are being presented as public services to show our concern and commitment to the communities we serve."

Adams said that specially arranged tours for school classes, service clubs, and community organizations may be arranged by appointment. Any group interested in a tour of the facility should have a spokesperson call 722-4400, extension 240.

He also advised that all of the activities occurring from 9:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. will start in the hospital lobby. Those events which will take place later in the evening will be held in the second-floor conference room. Signs will be posted to assist visitors, and employees will be on hand to provide additional directions.

My mail and telephone calls indicate that there are many people who read this column weekly; for that, I'm grateful. Hence, I'd like to offer a personal invitation to you to take advantage of the various programs scheduled during National Hospital Week at Annapolis Hospital.

Come on and see us — we'll have a cup of coffee together.

On the Brighter Side

Two worth a hundred

By JIM BRADLEY

There's an awful lot of fascinating people in this world. One songwriter, for instance, found a million dollar baby in a five and ten cent store. Now that's never happened to me.

But I recently found two $100 teen agers in one of my favorite restaurants. Come back with me to a cold blustery night in mid-February. On that evening 10 weeks ago, my wife and I were sitting with some friends in a booth at Leright's Restaurant on Wayne Road in Westland.

The clock on the wall read 9:30 and I was enjoying my cheeseburger, with lettuce, tomato, mayonnaise and a slice of onion. (Is there any other way to have a cheeseburger?) I had just finished taking a few bites and was savoring its delicious flavor.

Just then, two attractive teen age girls who looked vaguely familiar approached our booth and asked, "Does anyone at this table own a blue Ford Cougar?"

"Yes, why?" I replied.

"I hate to tell you this, but someone just smashed into it in the parking lot," the girl in glasses explained.

"You're kidding," I shouted, leaping to my feet and sprinting for the front door. (Boy, what a way to get indigestion!) My lovely $5,000 baby, barely nine months old, had its bumper guard ripped down and its rear end dented.

The girl was right. Someone had smashed my new blue Cougar.

After I returned to the booth the girls gave us their names and phone numbers. They said, "Here is the man's license plate number and the color and make of his car. We saw the accident and were very angry when he backed into your car, got out and jumped up and down to free the bumpers, and hurriedly drove away."

Both girls looked familiar and I mentioned that fact. "Yeah, we are waitresses at Mr. Steak and remember seeing you come in often for dinner," they responded.

I looked at the names on the piece of paper. Catherine Cacioppo and Victoria McDonald. "Just call us Cathy and Vickie," they said.

I went to the Westland Police Station and turned in an accident report with the license plate number the girls had been alert enough and concerned enough to copy down when the man backed into my car and drove away.

The Westland Police officers were all very helpful. Especially considerate was Officer Jerry Wright of the Traffic Bureau. He ran a check on the license plate number and phoned me shortly after. "Do you want to prosecute, Mr. Bradley, or do you want to try and settle out of court?"

I told him I wanted to work it out with Mr. Blank, the man who redesigned my $5,000 baby's trunk. After several phone conversations with Mr. Blank, we received two checks for a total of $215, the amount of the damage Mr. Blank caused.

Now, we have $100 deductible insurance and it would have cost us that much if the two alert, concerned teenage girls had not taken an interest in a poor fellow human being — me! That's why I call them my two $100 teenagers, because that's how much money they saved us.

Cathy is a junior at Westland John Glenn High School and an outstanding waitress at Mr. Steak. (I think it would be nice if Glenn Principal John Harrison gave Cathy a day off for her good deed.) Vickie graduated from Southfield Christian Academy in Southfield and is currently a freshman at Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn. Vickie's also a tremendous waitress at Mr. Steak.

These two girls — both about 18 years old — have helped restore my faith in people. And Officer Wright proves you shouldn't do wrong. He's one of the finest police officers I've ever talked to, and in the newspaper business you meet quite a few.

There's a lot more to this story — but space doesn't permit me to share all the humorous and interesting details. But I can share one thing with you.

It's people like Cathy and Vickie and Officer Wright that make this old world a lot better place to live. Their parents and friends and class mates should be very proud of them.

I know I am.

Homemaker Service retains family set-up

By MAUREEN BEATTY

Many households have found it necessary to seek temporary outside assistance in order to maintain the family structure during a time of ill health. Homemaker Service of Metropolitan Detroit is an excellent source of help for our elderly and disabled when that need arises. Organized in 1965, the service is available to residents of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Homemaker Service is geared to provide temporary assistance to (1) families whose lives are disrupted by hospitalization, illness, death or desertion of the mother or other adult in the household, (2) mothers who need temporary relief from the care of a retarded or disturbed child in the home, (3) fathers, or other employed adults who need temporary care and supervision of their children while they are at work, (4) aged, ill or disabled individuals who need temporary, competent help to allow them to remain in their homes, among familiar surroundings, and (5) social service agencies who need outside help in working out the household problems of families under their care.

For the aged, this service could be invaluable in helping the elderly person remain at home, or at least prolong the time when a nursing home might become necessary. Although Homemakers are not domestic workers, they do light housekeeping such as making beds, washing dishes, light laundry and preparation of meals. They also are trained to provide personal (non-nursing) care. Each Homemaker has had special training to prepare her for her work, and is carefully supervised by a social worker.

Homemaker Service is available Monday through Friday for either a few hours a day or week, or full-time, depending on need. For those in the Detroit Metropolitan area, application for service can be made Monday through Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. by calling 833-0635. Requests can be made by anyone familiar with the family or individual needs. A social worker will then call on the family or individual to assess those needs. The cost of the service depends on the ability to pay.

The Homemaker Service of Metropolitan Detroit is a member of United Community Services.

The seniors and staff at J Building would like to extend their best wishes for a speedy recovery to Tony Shannon, who is in Garden City Hospital, recovering from a heart attack. Tony is an administrative assistant to the Sheriff's Department of Wayne County. Get well soon.

56 promotes 'Sun Days'

Every day the sun beams enough energy to the surface of the earth to supply several thousand times the present power needs of the entire human race. For this reason, among others, today through Sunday have been designated Sun Days, so that people will think about the possibilities of solar energy in place of our dwindling fossil fuel supply.

In honor of this occasion, Channel 56 will present two solar specials on Saturday showing people how they can join in the move away from coal and oil to sun and wind.

At 6 p.m., Channel 56 will present "Dawn of the Solar Age" from the "Nova" series. The program looks at how industry and government, both here and abroad, are exploring a variety of methods for effective use of the sun as an energy source.

Scientists are using photoelectric cells to store the sun's heat. They also are experimenting with more efficient windmills for harnessing the wind's power (wind is an indirect solar energy source).

Closer to home, Michigan people are getting involved in solar energy. Immediately following the "Nova" special will be a 20-minute program entitled "Putting Energy Alternatives to Work." This film documents the efforts of 30 concerned citizens at the Upland Hills Environmental Center in Oxford as they attend a 10-day seminar showing the uses of solar, wind and methane energy.

The program also suggests ways the viewers can go about developing their own alternative energy sources.

For $144 deductible

Medicare Part A: Hospitalization protection

(This is reprinted as a public service by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan, with permission of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Indiana.)

(Third in a Series)
During the past year, about a third of the Medicare recipients in Michigan went into the hospital. Some stayed only a few days. Others stayed much longer.

But they all paid the same minimum charge—$144 (effective Jan. 1, 1978)—whether they stayed three days or 60 days. The bulk of their hospital bill was paid by the federal government under Medicare Part A (hospitalization) protection. The $144 is called the Part A deductible. It is the amount the government expects all Medicare recipients to pay as their contribution toward their hospital care. In other words, under Medicare, you pay for the first $144 of your hospitalization.

Once you've entered the hospital, you also have entered a time frame that the government calls a Medicare "benefit period." This benefit period can last up to 90 days of hospitalization, and it automatically ends when you have not been hospitalized for at least 60 days. Under Medicare, you can have almost any number of "benefit periods," but you only become eligible for a new "benefit period" after you have remained out of the hospital and skilled nursing facility for a 60-day period.

During a "benefit period," you are allowed up to 60 days of full Medicare hospitalization protection: before the amount paid by the government begins to fall off. For example: Let's say you have an operation and you are in the hospital for a week before you go home. Then three weeks later, you have complications and you have to return to the hospital. Medicare will pay, in full, for this hospitalization and you will not have to pay that $144 deductible again.

However, if you have been home for three months and then had to return to the hospital, you will have started another benefit period and you will be required to pay the first $144 of your bill.

Medicare pays only for those hospital services that are medically necessary. It does not pay for such things as television, private nurses, personal comfort items or any other services that are not deemed reasonable or necessary for the treatment of your illness or injury.

Medicare hospital payments are based on a semi-private room rate with from two to four beds per room. If you want a private room, you're responsible for paying the differences in charges. In some cases, a private room may be covered, if your doctor says it is medically necessary.

Other hospital charges that Medicare will cover include all meals (including special diets), operating room charges, nursing service, any drugs furnished by the hospital, laboratory tests, X-ray and radiology services, necessary medical supplies and any medical appliances or equipment furnished by the hospital. This last item includes such things as wheelchairs, crutches, braces, etc. Medicare also will pay for any medical social services required.

Here is how your Medicare hospital bills are paid. You pay for the first $144, plus any "extras" you have ordered for your personal comfort. The hospital then sends a claim to Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan. It reviews the claim and once it is approved, a check is sent back to the hospital. BCBSM then notifies the federal government that your bill has been paid and the government repays BCBSM the amount, plus its cost for processing the claim.

Every Medicare recipient has a measure of protection in case of a hospital stay that lasts longer than 60 days. However, the government's financial contribution begins to drop after 60 days. From the 61st to 90th day of hospitalization, the government will pay all necessary charges except for $36 a day which is your share of the bill.

So far, we have discussed your hospital coverage during the first 60 days of your benefit period, but now let's briefly discuss your Medicare protection in case of an extremely long-term hospitalization.

Should you be unfortunate enough to spend more than 90 days in the hospital, you can start drawing upon your 60-day lifetime reserve protection, if you wish. Medicare recipients have only one lifetime reserve they can draw upon for help in paying their hospital bills. Once these 60 days are used up, you don't have any of these funds left in your account.

While you are using the lifetime reserve, Medicare will pay for everything except $72 a day, which is your share of the bill. But keep this in mind: your lifetime reserve protection applies only once. When it has been used up, it is gone.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan and many other insurance companies offer a Medicare supplement insurance which pays additional amounts and provides for extra coverage.

Week emphasizes spinal health care

Michigan Spinal Health Care Week is being observed throughout the state this week, to focus public attention on the importance of good posture habits and proper spinal care.

May 1 through 7 was named Spinal Health Care week by Gov. William Milliken in an executive declaration. He urged citizens to "take advantage of this opportunity to learn more about these potential (spinal) health problems and how to prevent them."

One way of doing that is to visit any of several locations throughout the area where chiropractors will be giving free spinal checks to youngsters.

Among those participating is Joseph Bartell, director of the Chiropractic Life Center in Belleville. He will be giving the free spinal check analyses tomorrow at Westland Center, located at the corner of Wayne and Warren roads in Westland. A booth will be set up in the mall to accommodate the service. Several other chiropractors from the Western Wayne County area also will be there giving the check ups.

Chiropractors throughout Michigan will be providing the same service. The check up includes looking for symptoms that might indicate a spinal problem — shoulders that are not level, check of the legs, back muscle analysis and such.

The governor's declaration notes that early detection and correction of spinal health problems in children can prevent future suffering from poor health.

Gang's all here

With the Capitol Building in Washington, D.C., as the backdrop, Western Wayne County residents posed with ANP "tour director" Gene Wertz (second from right) during their early April visit to the city on the banks of the Potomac River. Sponsored through Associated Newspapers Inc., the travelers spent a weekend in our nation's capital, seeing such sights as the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials and visiting Arlington National Cemetery. The tour is annual sponsored by the newspaper concern.

Taste all 4 Zantigo Burritos.
Discover which delicious tortilla filling you love the most.

1. TACO-BURRITO.
Zantigo fills a soft flour tortilla with the same goodness that makes Zantigo Tacos irresistible: lots of special beef filling, crisp lettuce, red tomato, a tangy blend of Monterey Jack and mild cheddar cheese. If you like, add sour cream for an extra special taste treat.

2. MILD ALL-BEEF CHILI BURRITO.
Generous juicy chunks of pure beef, simmered in a lightly seasoned, mild red chili sauce. All this goodness, wrapped and served-up in a tender flour tortilla.

3. CHILI DIABLO BURRITO.
Mexican Style Green Chili loaded with big chunks of pure beef. Two kinds of chili peppers, Mexican green tomatoes (Tomatillos), onions, and a special blend of spices make it the hottest thing in Burritos.

4. BEAN AND CHEESE BURRITO.
A soft flour tortilla brimming with hearty Mexican-style beans and luscious grated cheese. For added richness, you can order one with extra cheese. Like all Zantigo Burritos, you can enhance the flavor with mild or spicy-hot sauce.

Assembly honors south's gymnasts

Belleville South Junior High School recently held a special assembly for its 1977-78 girl's gymnastics team.

During the assembly, coach Dorothy Florian gave recognition to those members of the team who received awards. She also told those assembled how pleased she was to have all of the team members show progress during the course of the season.

The team also gave a demonstration of its various activities during the assembly.

Award winners recognized by Coach Florian were:

Ives attends meet

Cardinal John Dearden, Archbishop of Detroit, named Michael Ives of St. Anthony Parish, Belleville, as secretary of the 1978 Archdiocesan Pastoral Assembly (APA).

The topic of the assembly was "Religious Education — A Lifelong Journey". More than 400 laymen and women, priests and religious, who were elected or appointed from the grass roots level, consulted with the Cardinal and the four assistant bishops of the archdiocese at the assembly.

This was the fifth such annual assembly and was in keeping with the concept of "shared responsibility" outlined by the Second Vatican Council.

Why Visitations?

A Funeral Chapel visitation (or a wake) is not a religious requirement that we know of, but a traditional one. And our traditions are woven into the fabric of society. Aside from tradition, there are meaningfully significant reasons why it is advisable to hold and attend visitations at a funeral chapel or home. Value to the bereaved.

The family of the deceased must have an outlet for their grief; an outpouring, according to Dr. Elisabeth Kubler-Ross and others, is necessary. Sorrow shared is sorrow diminished, and the gathering of friends and relatives at visitations provides an opportunity for this outpouring of grief.

Visitations will also add to the many statements of the very fact of death and will aid in the family's realization of this fact. Furthermore, those attending the wake or visitation are given the chance to console the bereaved personally and offer their assistance to the family.

Other direct and indirect benefits derived from the visitation are numerous. For more information, you may wish to stop by or write to me. I will be pleased to counsel with you.

Consumer comment

Careful shopping avoids 'lemon' purchase

By LINDA JOY
Executive director
Michigan Consumers Council

Buying a used car can be risky for the inexperienced shopper. No one wants to buy someone else's lemon.

But with careful shopping and some basic knowledge, it's possible to find a reliable car at a reasonable price. Before you start to shop, carefully evaluate your budget to see how much money can be spent on a car. Don't forget to add such costs as insurance and regular maintenance. Once a price range has been reached, try to narrow down what kind of car you want. Ask yourself if the car will be used for errands in the city or for long-distance trips; if it must accommodate many people or only yourself; and if you need it for several years or just a few months.

After considering these factors, decide on a make, model and year which suits your needs and budget. You may want to study the recommendations of some independent consumer-testing magazines like "Consumer Reports" before making a decision. If you are interested in a foreign-made car, be sure local repair shops service and carry the necessary parts for that car. By calling the toll-free federal Automobile Safety Hotline at 1-800-424-9393, you also can find out if a car has been recalled by the manufacturer.

While there are many places to buy used cars, each has its advantages and disadvantages. New car dealers often offer late-model cars, good service facilities, warranties and an established reputation, but the prices may be higher than other places.

Independent used car lots usually offer competitive prices and are willing to accept trade-ins. But their car models may be older, their guarantees minimal and their service facilities lacking. To check the reputation of any used car lot in the state, write the Dealer Licensing Division of the Secretary of State's office at 3222 S. Logan, Lansing 48910 or call (517) 373-9080. The division can tell you how long a dealership has been in business in the community and whether there are complaints filed against it.

Private sellers usually offer lower prices and are more willing to bargain. Most will accept only cash, guarantees are rare and you may be unknowingly buying a stolen car or one about to be repossessed. To guard against this, get the vehicle number from the car's registration form. Ask local police to run a stolen-car check and contact the local Secretary of State's office to see if there are any lenders' names on the title.

Cars which are sold in commercial, government or liquidation auctions are usually low in price. But these auctions are infrequent and guarantees are rare. Like cars offered in rental or lease agency auctions, many are in poor condition and have high mileage.

Be sure you understand thoroughly what is included in the warranty. If a car is sold "as is," the former owner may have no responsibility if the car falls apart right after you buy it. Michigan and federal laws

Kay Bee Construction
Salesmen Licensed

The home improvement industry has seen some drastic changes in the past few years. For one thing, all sales people are required by law to be individually licensed. The license insures home owners that any representative is qualified to have a sound knowledge of basic building codes. Also, that he is a legitimate and an ethical person.

Kay-Bee Construction is a family owned and operated business. Louis Grosslight drove a horse drawn trolley down Woodward Avenue in Detroit in the 1800's. Sherman Grosslight was the founder of Kay-Bee Construction and he was one of the pioneers in the home improvement industry. It was his idea to make sure that sales people have individual licenses, so that the consumer would be better protected.

Now Terry Grosslight, a third generation Detroit, is the president of Kay-Bee Construction. Terry has first-hand knowledge of all types of building. As a college student he spent his summers working with the various trades in the building business. "I worked with the laborers digging foundations, cement men, finish carpenters and all the various trades. I guess you can say I learned from the bottom up, and I am very grateful that my dad had the foresight to make sure I could experience various problems that occur in the building of any job."

Terry now heads the multi-million dollar Kay-Bee Construction Company. He has seen some of the changes in past years in the home improvement industry. However, he still operates on one old-fashioned principle— "Most customers don't do much building in a lifetime. Perhaps they remodel a kitchen, or add a room on. Whatever the work is, it is something new to them and therefore we see they (the customer) gets special consideration." A timetable which schedules all the trades to work is given out, and as Terry preaches to his many employees, "The customer is always right." That may seem to be a trite statement, but it has helped Kay-Bee Construction become one of the leaders in the home improvement industry.

With the cost of new houses so high Terry feels that his business and the industry in general will continue to grow. As a last word of advice to prospective home improvement customers, Terry said, "Make sure you know your contractor and be sure he has been in business for a period of time and has a good reputation."

For 75th anniversary

Ford search finds 82 original Model A's

A worldwide search by the Ford Motor Co. has confirmed the existence of at least 82 of the first cars Ford built nearly 75 years ago. Some of the cars are without dashboards or gas tanks, some need to have their leather upholstery mended, and several can use a new paint job. But most of the 1903 Model A Ford cars are in surprisingly good condition, according to George DeAngelis, chairman of Ford's 7th Anniversary Antique Car Committee. A number are in show-quality condition, he said. "We are amazed at the number of Model A's we've discovered, especially when you consider that only 1,708 were built," Mr. DeAngelis said. "And, despite our best efforts, we believe there are at least a few that we haven't been able to track down."

DeAngelis said hundreds of letters reached the company from all over the world after the search was announced last summer.

"Many were from 1903 Model A owners but many more were from people who either thought they had an original Model A, or wondered if we also were looking for other vintage Ford cars, including the second series of Model A, introduced in late 1927."

He said 68 of the 1903 Model A's are located in the United States and seven are in Canada. The remaining seven are in Australia, Denmark, Mexico, New Zealand, South Africa and Switzerland.

The North American owners will be invited to attend 75th Anniversary luncheons Ford will host in cities across the United States on or about the anniversary date of June 16. Each owner will be presented with a special certificate of ownership, signed by Henry Ford II, and a plaque for mounting on the car.

"We really had to play detective in separating the authentic Model A's from the 'might-be's,'" DeAngelis said. "But now that we have identified and listed the owners, I wouldn't be surprised if they don't set up their own club to exchange parts and information about these oldest of Ford cars."

Perhaps the most unusual owner is a member of Danish nobility. Count J. O. Raben-Levetzau has Model A No. 524. The oldest owner is Harvey A. Geeting, 93, of West Manchester, Ohio. Coincidentally, Geeting is a Ford dealer — and has been since 1914, just 11 years after Ford Motor Co. was established.

Most of the vehicles are privately owned, but several are in collections, such as the National Museum of Science and Technology, Ottawa, Canada; the Martin County Historical Society, Stuart, Fla.; the Towle Antique Ford Collection, Circle, Mont.; and the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, Canyon, Tex.; Muhlenberg College in Allentown, Pa., has Model A No. 211 on display in its Science Building.

County hospital wishes all well

"Wayne County General Hospital wishes county citizens well this week and all other 51 weeks of the year." That's the message Dr. E. J. Conklin, director of the hospital, will be spreading next week during the 1978 National Hospital Week, May 7-13.

National Hospital Week is an annual observance sponsored by the American Hospital Association and its member hospitals to show appreciation for the work done by hospital employees and to encourage hospital-community interaction.

"This year's theme, 'Hospitals Wish You Well,' carries a goodwill from our hospitals for the continued or renewed good health of everyone in the community," Dr. Conklin said. "And we'd like to make this an occasion to remind people that good health doesn't just happen, it takes effort."

"We hope that National Hospital Week will signal the need to change unhealthy lifestyle patterns — like smoking, eating or drinking to excess, getting too little rest or exercise, or not having the routine medical care recommended by your doctor."

"National Hospital Week is an appropriate time to start doing what you can to stay out of the hospital."

Township Attorney Hess and Engineer Slaviero arrived at 8:21 pm. Also present were approximately 35 citizens. Motion by Folks, supported by Overman to approve agenda. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Williams, supported by Overman to approve minutes of Regular Board Meeting of April 11, 1978 as published. Motion carried unanimously. Supervisor's Report: Read correspondence from Van Buren Board of Education with regard to meeting with Senator Faust. The meeting is to be a breakfast meeting Monday May 8, 1978 at 8 AM. at the Red Apple Restaurant. Senator pays for breakfast. Correspondence from CUFA regarding Transportation Project for Saturday shopping for Senior Citizens. Requesting to park Vans at Sumpter Township Hall, with no liability to Township. Read letter from Supervisor Cullin concerning Senior Citizens. Suggested applying for grants as a joint effort. Meeting to be held at Van Buren Township Hall April 27, 1978 at 11:30 am. Read correspondence from Huron River Water Shed Council regarding time and place of Annual Meeting. Also correspondence from 1776th Military Police Company regarding open house at 15000 W. Eight Mile. Correspondence from MIOSHA regarding meeting at Hilton Inn May 24, 1978, also a Public Works Association Seminar in Boston October 14-19. Supervisor announced that all Fire Station Bids had been rejected and the plans will be revised and re-bid. Read Resolution from Romulus regarding fire fighters.

Motion by Folks, supported by Banotai Township to send letter to Romulus Clerk informing them that we have no full time fire department and though we are in sympathy with them, we cannot be for or against their Resolution. Motion carried unanimously. Motion by Folks, supported by Hall Township supports Romulus Resolution supporting House Bill 4017 and House Bill 4018. Will send letter to Romulus City Clerk Folmar informing him of same. Motion carried unanimously.

Minutes were read of the Citizens Advisory Committee Meeting of April 17, 1978. Motion by Folks, supported by Hall to accept Supervisor's Report. Motion carried unanimously.

Engineer's Report: Engineer Slaviero explained that Hess, Redman and himself were late arriving at the Township Meeting due to the fact that they were trying to reach an out-of-court settlement on the water program. They are very close to an agreement and the settlement looks favorable. Should know the results in a couple of days. The Representative of FmHA advised the application for Phase IV Water Program must be filed by July 1, 1978 or the additional $2,000,000 will be lost. It will go back to the Federal Government and be distributed to other states. The Engineer asked for authorization to go ahead and file the application. The lines are to be placed in accordance with the report from the Wayne County Health Department. Motion by Folks, supported by Williams to authorize Engineer Slaviero to prepare application for Phase IV Water Program and return it to the Board for approval. Motion carried unanimously.

Engineer Slaviero stated it is getting close to the end of Phase II Water Main Project and all complaints should be turned in, in writing, before the final closing. Motion by Williams, supported by Banotai to accept Engineer's Report. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Hall, supported by Williams to accept Treasurer's Report as read. Motion carried unanimously.

Gary Dunstan of the Little League requested to be on the agenda. Did not show up.

Motion by Folks, supported by Hall to allow Electrical Inspector to attend Seminar June 9th and 10th and return with full report to Board. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Folks, supported by Overman to approve the hiring of Eric Wyche as Police Dispatcher under the CETA Program. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Williams, supported by Hall to adopt State Police Resolution. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Folks, supported by Overman to authorize Attorney to revise Dog, Disorderly Persons, Blight and Traffic Ordinances. Motion carried unanimously.

Suggested priority, by Lt. Cox, of Ordinance revision should be Blight, Dog, Disorderly Persons and Traffic.

Motion by Overman, supported by Williams to grant Lt. Cox request for a Closed Meeting regarding his status in the Police Department. Date to be Friday April 28, 1978 at 7:30 pm. Meeting also to include discussion of the Rubbish Contract. Motion carried unanimously.

Max Harnisch represented the Sumpter Fire Department and answered questions from the Board members pertaining to the amount and condition of Fire Hose the Fire Department now has. Mr. Harnisch did not know the exact amount of feet and what size all the hose is but he will report back to the Board Friday April 28, 1978.

Motion by Folks, supported by Banotai Board authorize the purchase of additional hose immediately if Fire Department does not have a sufficient amount. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Overman Board waive Mr. Kedroske's water bill. Motion withdrawn.

Motion by Folks, supported by Hall Board did not have necessary legal grounds to discuss Mr. Kedroske's water bill. Motion carried unanimously.

Closed Meeting set up with Mr. Kedroske and Township Board for Monday May 1, 1978 at 7:30 pm.

Motion by Overman, supported by Williams to amend previous motion on water audit in accordance with auditors recommendation. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Williams, supported by Hall to grant Douglas Hurd a peddlers license. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Hall, supported by Folks to allow Engineer Slaviero to negotiate with Morrison Company and return findings to the Board. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Overman, supported by Williams to pay warrants as monies becomes available. Motion carried unanimously.

Floor discussion-refer to tape.

Gloria Cox informed the Board that it was not legal to hold a Closed Meeting for Mr. Kedroske regarding his water bill. Attorney Hess agreed. Will be discussed at a Special Board Meeting.

Motion by Williams, supported by Hall to adjourn. Meeting adjourned at 9:55 pm.

Respectfully submitted
Marie E. Sienko-Deputy Clerk

I, Marie E. Sienko, Deputy Clerk of Sumpter Township, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the minutes taken at a Regular Board Meeting held on April 25, 1978 at the Sumpter Township Hall, 23483 Sumpter Road, Belleville, Michigan 48111.

From Metro Beach to Delhi

Have your pick of five-county metroparks

This spring plan to visit one or more of the 10 Huron-Clinton metroparks serving the citizens of Wayne, Livingston, Macomb, Oakland and Washtenaw Counties. These parks include Metro Beach Metropark (740 acres) near Mt. Clemens; Stoney Creek Metropark (3,990 acres) near Rochester and Utica; Marshbank Metropark (115 acres) near Pontiac; Kensington Metropark (4,350 acres) near Milford; Hudson Mills (1,415 acres), Dexter-Huron (125 acres) and Delhi (45 acres), each near Ann Arbor; Lower Huron Metropark (1,200 acres) near Belleville; Willow Metropark (1,525 acres) near New Boston and Oakwoods Metropark (1,770 acres) near Flat Rock. The 10 Metroparks include some 22,000 acres, with 15,275 acres developed and have more than 10 million visitors a year.

Huron-Clinton metroparks are located on water, such as a lake or stream — to provide water-related recreation and to enhance the enjoyment of picnicking, nature study, golf, scenic drives, fall color or winter sports. Most citizens are less than an hour's drive from their favorite metropark. One feature of the Huron-Clinton metropark system is that the individual taxpayer has an outstanding system of parks at a very low cost; many pay only $6 or less per year. A resident with a home value at $48,000, but assessed for tax purposes at $24,000 - pays just $6 per year (¼ mill or 25 cents per $1,000 upon each dollar of state equalized value of the property of the five-county region). In the general election of November 5, 1940, the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority was created to plan, build, maintain and operate a system of metroparks serving the citizens of Wayne, Livingston, Macomb, Oakland and Washtenaw counties. It was on that date that electors of the five-county region voted 2 to 1 in favor of the authority and created one of the unique park systems in the country. The seven-member HCMA Board of Commissioners began work on May 15, 1941, the initial staff was hired in 1942 and the first metropark - Kensington - opened for public use in 1948.

The governing body for the authority, under the act, is a seven-member Board of Commissioners. Two commissioners, who serve as representatives-at-large, are appointed by the Governor of Michigan for a term of four years. Five commissioners, one each to represent the counties, are appointed for a term of six years by the Board of Commissioners of the individual counties and these representatives must reside in the counties they serve and represent.

Members of the HCMA Commission serve without salary. Members of the current Board of Commissioners include the two governor appointees; Kurt R. Keydel of Detroit and Jeanette S. Weiss of Detroit, and five county representatives, Clifton W. Heller; Livingston, Thomas S. Welsh Macomb, Charles R. Shafer (Oakland), John H. Dillon (Washtenaw); and William E. Kreger (Wayne). The daily administration of the Huron-Clinton metropark system is directed by a chief executive and three staff officers, who are appointed by the HCMA Board of Commissioners. They are David O.

Laidlow, director, James J. Pompo, deputy director, David L. Wahl, controller, and Robert L. Bryan, secretary and development manager. The authority has a relatively small staff, with various departments concerned with, auditing, accounting, procurement, planning, engineering, land acquisition, park operations, nature study, cartography and public information. Park operations are directed by park superintendents, and approximately 195 persons are employed year-round, plus 600 or so seasonal workers, scheduled generally from Memorial Day to Labor Day.

Common Cause fights House bill

Common Cause today urged Congressman William Ford to continue his support for the 15 percent limit on income members of Congress may earn annually in addition to their salaries. "We urge you to oppose any efforts to weaken or repeal the limit on outside earned income when the House of Representatives takes up financial disclosure legislation this month," said Carrie Young, Common Cause Steering Committee coordinator in the 15th Congressional District. Her statements were submitted in a letter released last week. "If the income limit is repealed, the House will be totally abandoning the commitment made when it accepted its pay raise last year," she added. Last year Congressman Ford voted to place a $8,625 limit on outside earned income for members of Congress. Miss Young said she strongly believed that being a member of Congress is a full-time job, and that members should devote their time and energies to public service. "It would be a clear betrayal of their initial pledge made last year," she said. She added: "They should not be free to earn unlimited outside legal fees, honoraria, and other compensation which could conflict with their professional responsibilities." The House of Representatives was to consider House Bill 1, financial disclosure legislation, last week. At that time, an amendment was to be offered to repeal or seriously undermine the $8,625 limit on income member of Congress may earn annually in addition to their salaries. She urged citizens to write Ford explaining that extensive outside activities for pay are bound to create actual or potential conflicts of interest. "Don't wait until it's too late, use your voice now," she said.

'Journey' premieres
The award-winning National Geographic Special "Journey to the Outer Limits" will have its public television debut May 9 at 8 p.m. on Channel 56. Awarded Emmy for "Best Achievement in Cultural Documentary Programming" in 1974, "Journey" follows the adventures of 19 city kids, with little knowledge of the outdoors, as they go through the rigorous training of the Colorado Outward Bound School. This National Geographic Special will have a repeat showing on May 13 at 3 p.m. The documentary received a number of awards including first place in the 1974 New York City Film Festival and a 1975 American Film Festival Blue Ribbon. The demanding training program begins the moment the teen-agers arrive at Red Cloud Camp in the Colorado Rockies. Their personal conflicts and struggles are captured on film as they push themselves beyond physical and emotional limits toward their final test - climbing the Santa Rosa Peak, nearly 19,000 feet high in the Peruvian Andes. "Journey to the Outer Limits" is narrated by Leslie Nielsen and hosted by E.G. Marshall.

Consumer comment

prohibit odometer tampering and strongly penalize people who roll back mileage on used cars. To protect consumers, the dealer or individual selling the car must provide a written statement which, by state law, must give the odometer reading at the time of transfer, the date of the transfer, the former owner's name and current address and the identity of the vehicle, including the vehicle number.

A reputable dealer or private seller should be happy to provide this statement. If you have suspicions about the true mileage of the car, check with the former owner for confirmation or look for maintenance stickers with dates on the car. By looking closely at the car, you also may be able to determine if its appearance matches the number of miles on the odometer.

When examining a car, don't attempt to evaluate the engine if you don't know what to look for in an engine. The services of a reputable mechanic are well worth the cost. A dealer should allow you to test drive the car so take your time and drive on a variety of road surfaces and in different traffic conditions.

Don't be afraid to ask the dealer how much profit is being made on the car or how much the dealer would give you for the car a week after you bought it. Be sure to get all verbal promises and statements in writing. For example, if the dealer says the brake light will be fixed before you pick up the car, get it in writing. In case something goes wrong after the deal, a written document carries more legal weight than verbal promises.

If you buy a car on credit, remember you don't have to finance it with the dealer. Be wary of lenders who imply credit life and disability insurance are required by law. They are not and can be cancelled at any time.

Remember a used car is not a new car. Don't expect perfection. If there are repairs you can do and the price is right, it may be the right car for you. If you want a car in mint condition, expect to pay a higher price than for a car which runs well but needs body work or minor repairs.

College week offers 'Stress and Coping'

Stress is not new, people just never used to discuss it openly, according to Dr. Robert Ward, Michigan State University family medicine professor. He says that each of us is a unique combination of genetic, cultural, social, family, psychological and economic characteristics.

According to Ward: "Sets of events trigger adaptive and maladaptive responses more commonly known as stress; no one is immune to it."

Dr. Ward will be teaching the class, "Stress and Coping," during College Week, June 19-22, on the MSU campus. He believes stress is normal and predictable and an underlying part of life. During the class he will provide necessary background for understanding and diagnosing the problem and offer some simple methods for taking control of personal stress.

College Week is sponsored by the Family Living Education Program of the MSU Cooperative Extension Service. This year's program, "Family Impact on the Future," is designed to meet the needs of the individual, the family, and the family as it relates to the community.

The four-day program is held on campus for more than 1,200 participants.

The more than 50 class options include some of today's most popular issues: The Impact of TV on Children, Survival for the Woman on Her Own, Food - Your Political Concern, Developing Self-Esteem in You and Your Family and Getting a Handle on Community and Organization Conflict.

All of these classes, as well as more than half of the others offered are being designed for reteaching through the use of self-teaching packets, developed for a loan program to volunteer organizations or groups through Michigan State University, Wayne Cooperative Extension Service. Local organizational leaders may find this feature of College Week helpful in planning programs for the coming year.

Registration is open to everyone through June 1. The cost for room, board and registration is $62; and commuters may register for $18 (the fee does not include meals). One-day visitors may sign up for $9.

Further information about College Week activities may be obtained by calling the Family Living Education Department of the Wayne County Cooperative Extension office at 721-6565.

Sun is just right ivy

A hanging basket near a sunny window is just what the doctor ordered for the grape ivy (Cissus rhombifolia).

This fast growing vine has brown, hairy stems with coiling tendrils and three-part, glossy green leaves with brown veins and hairy undersides.

Michigan State University horticulturists suggest potting the grape ivy in a standard houseplant potting mix. Water when the soil surface dries to keep the soil around the roots moderately moist at all times. Be careful not to overwater — this will cause the leaves to yellow.

The grape ivy grows best in the light near a sunny window, but it will survive in the light needed to cast a faint shadow. In low light, new leaves will be smaller than leaves produced under bright light conditions. Pinch the growing tips to encourage branching.

Typical home temperatures — 70-80 degrees during the day and 55-60 degrees at night — are ideal.

This native of the West Indies and North and South America is rarely bothered by insects. Red spider mites may sometimes become a pest, however.

Propagate the grape ivy by stem tip cuttings. The MSU experts note that cuttings are slow to root unless they're dipped in a rooting hormone.

EDITOR'S NOTE: It's a Date is open to all local nonprofit organizations free of charge. Information for the column should be submitted by phone or mail by the Thursday before the issue in which it is to appear. Call Suburban Living Editor, Lee Smith, at 697-9191 or mail information to 116 Fourth St., Belleville, 48111. Items must be received by 2 p.m. on Thursday and will be repeated until outdated.)

He stressed "stranger danger"

Sgt. George Montgomery of the Van Buren Police Department presented a special lesson to the pre-school children of Carousal Cooperative Nursery recently when he came to stress the importance of going with strangers. His message was "Remember that a friendly stranger could turn out to be a terrible danger." A green light stranger, he said, is someone a child doesn't know but his parent does. A red light stranger on the other hand is someone neither the parent nor child knows. Also while visiting the nursery he reviewed with the children the rules of safety for crossing streets. The highlight of his visit for the youngsters was the chance to sit in the police car with the lights flashing and being able to test the siren and CB radio. Sgt. Montgomery is pictured with Jason Radecki (left) and Nhu Ha Thi Dacko, both 5-years-old, on his lap. The remainder of the class show off their hand puppets.

Rita Sietz among finalists for state teen-ager title

A 17-year-old Belleville resident, Rita Sietz, has been selected to be a finalist in the 1978 Michigan National Teen-ager Pageant to be held May 13 at Pease Auditorium on the campus of Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sietz of 19380 Sumpter Road, Miss Sietz is a senior at Belleville High School. Her affiliations there include the symphony, concert, jazz and marching bands as well as the choral group. She is part of the folk group at St. Anthony's Catholic Church and is an active member of the 4-H Club having just recently won top model honor at the 4-H Spring Review at Chelsea High School.

Miss Sietz, who is being sponsored by Bokon's Greenhouse, Roberts Bros., Inc. and Don F. Raymond, Inc., all of Belleville, and Arborland Standard Service of Ann Arbor, will be spending the pageant weekend at Hoyt Conference Center at EMU.

Her hobbies include sewing, knitting, macrame, crocheting, needlepoint, embroidery, rug hooking and arts and crafts. She is a talented organist and pianist and also plays the baritone and alto saxophone and flute. In her spare time she also enjoys swimming, softball, basketball, tennis, volleyball, camping, hiking and biking.

The Michigan National Teen-ager Pageant is the official state finals to the Miss National Teen-ager Pageant to be held in Atlanta, Ga. in August. There will be contestants from all over the state competing for the title of Michigan National Teen-ager for 1978. The current state title holder is Cherie Hubbard of Milton with La Velda Fann of Gadsden, Ala. holding the national title.

Contestants will be judged on scholastic achievement, leadership, poise, personality and appearance. There is no swim suit or talent competition. Each contestant, who will participate in the National Teen-ager Volunteer Service Program, will deliver a 100-word speech on the subject, "What's Right about America."

Amy Christine is baptized at St. Philip's

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Amy Christine Flavell, the 4½ months old daughter of Richard and Debra Flavell of Ypsilanti, was the center of attention Sunday, April 23, as relatives gathered to see her receive the sacrament of baptism. Pastor Larry Shaver conducted the morning ceremony at St. Philip's Lutheran Church in Ypsilanti.

The Flavells chose Terry and Greg Nowacek of Ypsilanti to be their daughter's God-parents.

Present for their first great-grandchild's christening were four very proud ladies — Mrs. Rachel Hamilton and Mrs. Lily Flavell of Belleville; Mrs. Myrtle Hampton of Royal Oak and Mrs. Elsie Nowacek of Wayne. Other members of the family at the rite were the Gerald Nowaceks with Dawn and Tom from Royal Oak; Fred and Jean Flavell, Bob Tator and Fred Flavell, all of Belleville, and Barb Grenay of Flint.

Following the service, the baby's parents entertained at a luncheon at their home in Ypsilanti.

Receives degree

Among those graduating from Eastern Michigan University on Sunday, April 23, was Richard A. Nowak, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Nowak of Willis Road, Belleville.

At commencement exercises held in Bowen Field House at EMU, Nowak received a master of science degree in physical education.

An alumnus of Belleville High School, he currently is on the faculty and coaching staff of the Adrian Community School District.

New Englander honored

A visitor from the East Coast, Mrs. Bessie Shelby of Yarmouth, Mass., was honored guest Saturday evening, April 22, at a family dinner hosted by her niece, Barbara Du Bois, and her husband, Jack, of Romulus.

Mrs. Shelby, who recently returned to home territory after three years nursing her invalid sister, Mrs. Lorraine Grant in Melbourne, Australia, decided to visit in Michigan before reestablishing a residence in Massachusetts.

Relatives, who'd not seen Mrs. Shelby for some 15 years, gathered for a cop party which also marked her upcoming May birthday. Guests, 28 in all, traveled from St. Clair Shores, Coldwater, Kalamazoo and Ypsilanti for the reunion and to see the interesting and colorful slides taken during Mrs. Shelby's residence in the land-down-under.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Having a party? Giving a shower? Getting the family together for the annual reunion? Out-of-state visitors or visiting yourself? Back from a vacation? New baby in the family? Graduation party, anniversary or birthday? Give us a call at 697-9191 and we'll include it in an upcoming Around the Town column. Simple as that!

HV Mothers of Twins Club to host annual convention

The Huron Valley Mothers of Twins Club will host the 14th Annual Convention of the Michigan Organization of Mothers of Twins Clubs May 5, 6 and 7 at Weber's Inn of Ann Arbor.

Members, their husbands and interested guests who are parents of twins are welcome to attend the 3-day session which will include election of officers and installation at 7:30 p.m. May 6. Entertainment by The Friars and dancing to the music of The Sandcastle will follow.

Workshops will include Dr. Cara Poana, dermatologist; Dr. Thomas Gillia, assistant professor of physical education at the University of Michigan; and Judith Tanter MJW, family therapist. A panel discussion by three child psychologists from the University of Michigan Childrens Psychiatric Hospital who are involved in a twin study group will also be held.

Featured speakers will be Jim Frenze, director of the Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce, on Saturday morning and The Rev. Robert Huff whose topic will be "Love and Cherish" at the Sunday luncheon.

For the fathers of twins, there will be several sports activities, tours and a special Saturday luncheon.

The Michigan Organization of Mothers of Twins was founded for the purpose of exchanging information pertaining to the rearing, development and encouragement of individuality of twins; to assist in medical research, help organize new clubs and to bring about solutions to the unique problems of multiple births.

For more information about the convention or Mothers of Twins in general, contact Mrs. Michael Kabot at 3440 Brentwood Ct., Ann Arbor 48104, this year's convention chairman.

Quotes worth quoting...

"Don't knock the weather. If it didn't change once in a while, nine out of 10 people couldn't start a conversation."

Kim Hubbard said it.

Mrs. Rhea Sobolewsky feted on 90th birthday

Mrs. Stanley (Rhea) Sobolewsky of West Columbia Avenue was guest of honor April 22 at a potluck dinner held at the Seventh Day Adventist Church in honor of her 90th birthday.

Present for the occasion were her immediate family, Mr. and Mrs. Alton P. Shirley of Wexford Street and Mrs. Fred (Velma)

Guilstorff of West Columbia Avenue, (Fred being in the hospital).

Besides the many cards, flowers and other gifts, she was also presented with a special birthday cake which she cut and shared with all present. In the evening she was treated to dinner at Cantonese Village in Westland.

Mrs. Sobolewsky, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Plague, was born April 22, 1888, at the home of her parents on Liberty Street. She is the oldest resident of Belleville, having lived in the city all of her 90 years. Besides her three children, she has five grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Loyers head for Jamaica after April vows

A week-long honeymoon in Jamaica followed the April 8 wedding of Christine M. Hoeft and Darwin L. Loyer, both of Belleville. Graduates of Eastern Michigan University, the young couple exchanged vows and wedding bands in a four thirty ceremony at St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

Arrangements of yellow fuji mums, and white carnations and gladiolas adorned the altar as The Rev. Raymond S. Skoney and The Rev. John D. Kluka conducted the double ring rite.

Lester King served as organist for the occasion with St. Anthony's folk group providing instrumental and vocal selections.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Hoeft of 133 W. Wabash, Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Loyer of 49241 Bemis Rd., Belleville.

Given in marriage by her mother and father, Christine appeared in a white qiana gown designed with an accordion pleated A-line skirt. The little fitted bodice and high banded neckline were fashioned of Venice lace with the long qiana sleeves and chapel train both trimmed with matching lace.

Her fingertip mantilla, outlined in Venice lace, was frosted with lace appliques. Completing her bridal finery was an arrangement of white roses, lilies of the valley and baby's breath atop a white bride's Bible.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Paul Brasseur of Belleville, was distinguished by the single yellow silk rose and baby's breath which she wore tucked in her hair. The other attendants, all sisters of the bridal pair, Cathleen Hoeft of Ann Arbor; Cynthia Hoeft of Belleville and Darlene Loyer, the junior bridesmaid, wore wreath headpieces of yellow silk roses and baby's breath.

Yellow floral organza frocks in the A-line mode with matching capes were worn by the senior attendants while an A-line yellow chiffon gown with puffed sleeves was made for Darlene Loyer by her mother. All four carried bouquets of yellow silk roses and baby's breath tied with yellow and white satin streamers.

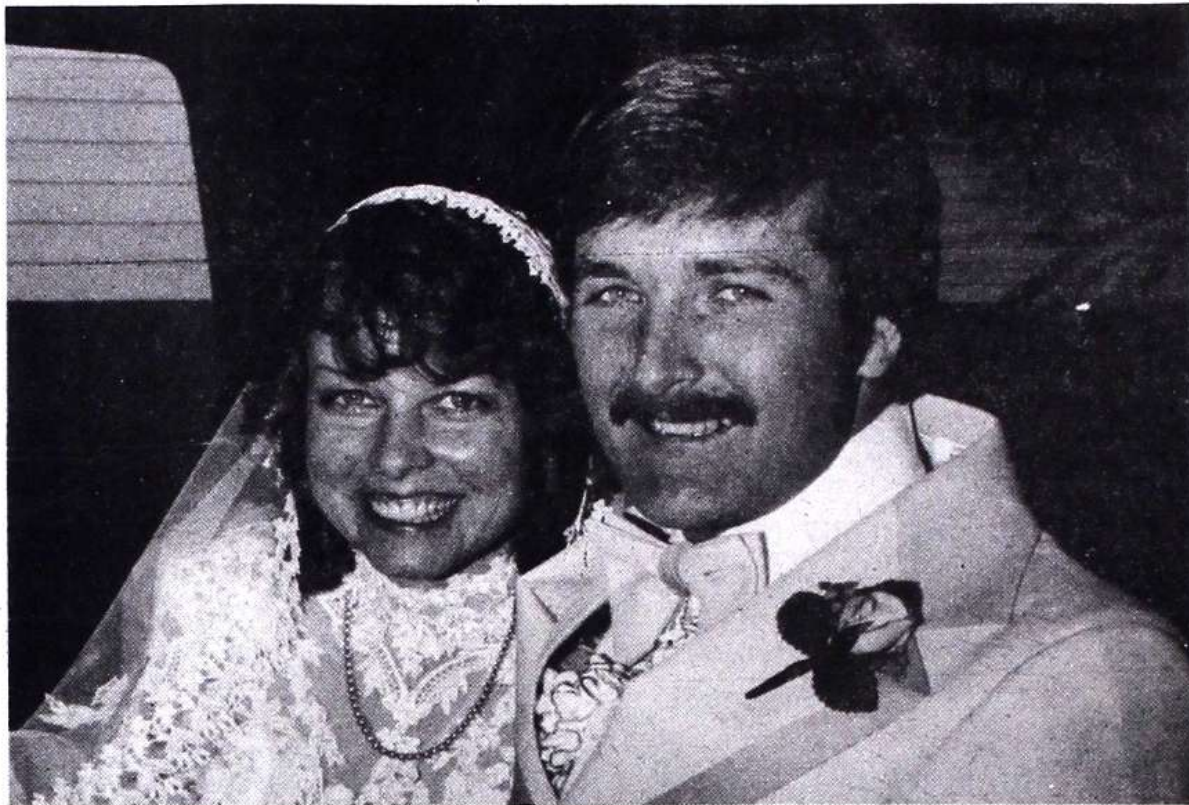

The bridegroom chose Daniel L.

Hurst of Belleville to serve as best man. The corps of ushers included Robert La Chance of Livonia; Don Foley of St. Clair Shores; Robert Hoeft of Monroe, brother of the bride, and Bryan Killingbeck of Romulus.

Roma's of Ann Arbor was reserved for the dinner-dance reception which followed. Some 280 guests were greeted by Mrs. Hoeft in a long gown of peach flowered crepe with a matching chiffon jacket. The white carnation corsage she added to her ensemble was accented with sprigs of stephanotis. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Loyer donned a beige chiffon gown styled with a brown chiffon cape. Her corsage was comprised of white roses.

The new Mrs. Loyer is a supervising senior clinical technologist at the University of Michigan Medical School in Ann Arbor. Her husband, a construction estimator, is employed by L. Loyer Construction Company of Wyandotte.

The bridegroom's parents played host at the rehearsal dinner which was held at Herc's Beef Buffet in Ypsilanti.

MR. AND MRS. DARWIN L. LOYER

In appreciation

The April 25 meeting of the Belleville Kiwanis Club was tagged as "Senior Citizen Appreciation Night" and, for the special dinner at Savage Elementary School, the Belleville Area Senior Citizens Club was invited to be guests for the evening. Fred Hudson (center), chairman of the annual Christmas tree sale sponsored by the Kiwanians, had the pleasure of presenting a check for $750 to the group for its participation in handling the daytime tree sales and also for assisting with the club's annual sale of Easter plants. Elda Bohl (right), president of the Senior Citizens, and Bill Krause (left) were on hand to receive the addition to their club treasury.

A soup 'n sandwich picnic

When spring fever hits you, look to your bike or go on a hike. It will do more to dispel cabin fever than the sulphur-molasses treatments of yore.

After energetic biking or hiking, and to eliminate getting home for lunch, imagine sitting against a big shady tree and munching contentedly on a tasty lunch carried in your tote bag. There's hearty Tomato-Bean Soup in a thermos, a Muenster Salami sandwich of hero-like proportions and taste and some Chocolate Chip Raisin Bars.

Soup's on easily enough if you open two cans of condensed soup, mix them with milk and heat. For the sandwiches, be prepared with good tasting sandwich fixings such as Muenster cheese that goes well with spicy salami, a flavorful rye bread and butter defly seasoned with mustard and onions.

Everyone's favorite ingredients are in the cookie bars which travel easily. Raisins, chocolate pieces and nuts are stirred into a butter-based dough for this bar-type cookie. Although milk goes into the soup, it's nice to have milk to drink with the bars for dessert. On your jaunt it may be possible to pick up the milk at a store.

Tomato-Bean Soup

1 can (10 3/4 oz.) condensed tomato soup
1 can (11 1/2 oz.) condensed bean with bacon soup
2 1/2 cups milk
Combine soups and milk in medium-sized saucepan. Heat to boiling, stirring occasionally.

Muenster-Salami Sandwiches

(6 hearty sandwiches)

1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
1 tablespoon Dijon-style mustard
1/4 cup chopped green onions with tops
1/2 slices rye bread

The catcher's mask was invented by F. W. Thayer of Harvard University and first used in baseball in 1876.

6 slices (1-oz. each) Muenster cheese
Cream butter with mustard; stir in onion. Spread on one side of bread; sprinkle with parsley. On 6 slices buttered bread add slice of salami, slice of cheese, slice of salami; top with remaining slices of bread.

Chocolate Chip Raisin Bars

(Yield: 16 bars)

1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 egg
2 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon soda
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Cream butter; gradually add sugar and beat until fluffy. Beat in egg, milk and vanilla. Combine flour, baking powder, salt and soda; gradually add to creamed mixture. Stir in raisins, chocolate pieces and nuts. Spread in buttered 8-inch square baking pan. Bake 25 to 30 minutes. Cool on wire rack. Cut into squares.

Venetian Beef
2 pounds boneless beef chuck steak, cut 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick
Two-thirds cup Italian-style salad dressing
1 package (8 ounces) noodles, cooked and drained
1 can (10 ounces) condensed cream of celery soup
1/2 cup grated mozzarella cheese
1/2 cup dairy sour half and half
1/4 cup chopped pimento
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon instant minced onion
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder, if desired
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

Pork Steak Pizzas
6 pork cubed steaks
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
3 large English muffins, split and toasted

Invigorating spring weather dares the woman of the house to forsake the kitchen and come out to enjoy the fresh air and warm sunshine. Fortunately, she can accept the invitation. For getting into the swing of spring needn't be curbed by meal preparation — not when good quick meat recipes that are considerate of the budget are on hand.

It isn't necessary to select a costly cut to cut cooking time, says Reba Staggs, National Live Stock and Meat Board home economist. Many economical cuts of beef and pork can come to the rescue when cooking know-how is utilized.

Attractively priced cuts from the beef chuck or pork shoulder, such as blade steaks, can be fashioned for quick cooking by cutting into strips before braising. Mechanical tenderization, used for producing beef or pork cubed steaks, also shortens cooking time.

Pretty to look at and delightful to sip...a cherry soda. Stir two tablespoons of chopped maraschino cherries and one tablespoon of cherry juice with a small scoop of vanilla ice cream in a 12-ounce tall glass.

Pour sparkling soda water almost to the top of the glass and top with a big scoop of ice cream. Chocolate ice cream is a good substitute for vanilla in this one!

1 can (8 ounces) pizza sauce
6 slices (1 ounce each) mozzarella cheese
6 large stuffed green olives, sliced

Lightly brown steaks on both sides in lard or drippings over moderate heat, cooking until done, 10 to 18 minutes. Place a steak on each toasted muffin half and top with 2 to 3 tablespoons sauce. Cover each sandwich with a slice of cheese and slices from 1 olive. Arrange "pizzas" on broiler rack so tops are 3 inches from heat and broil until cheese melts, approximately 5 minutes. Serve hot. 6 servings.

Residents return from Carolinas, Florida

By MRS. JOSEPH SPRING
699-4021

Mrs. Velma Kulzer of Liberty Street accompanied her friend, Miss Lucile Webster of Dearborn, and the latter's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs.

Everett Webster of Angola, Ind. on an 8-day trip to the Carolinas. At New Bern, N.C., they toured the Tryon Palace, Lord Tryon having been one of the early governors of the Carolina colony. They spent sometime in South Carolina, drove through part of the Smokies, stopped in Big Stone Gap, where a political rally was being held for John Warner, Elizabeth Taylor's present husband, and enroute home enjoyed dinner at the Boone Tavern in Berea, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wilson of Elwell Road and Mr. and Mrs. George C. Wilson of East Huron River Drive were among the many relatives and friends who attended a recent retirement party for a former Belleville resident, Franklin Van Schoick of Akron, Ohio. The party was held at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Kegerrels of Ypsilanti.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin C. Budd of the Expressway recently returned home after a 3-weeks trip to Arizona where they visited friends at Apache Junction, Sun City and Kingman.

After having been a patient at Beyer Hospital in Ypsilanti for the past several days, Milton Smith was able to return to his home on West Wabash Street on April 20.

On Sunday, April 23, Alice Herkimer of Denton Road, Gertrude Mason of West Columbia Avenue and Virginia Wall of Greylock Street motored to Lansing where they were dinner guests of the former's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Loria.

The occasion was in celebration of the birthdays of the Loria's 8-year-old son, Henry Joseph, and his grandmother. Also present were the young man's great-grandmother, Mrs. Elmer (Helen) Riggs, and Mr. and Mrs. Dwain Watson and family of Pottsville. Later in the day, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Loria of Gaylord arrived at their son's home.

Word has been received here of the recent death of a former West Huron River Drive resident, Donovan Partridge. He died suddenly April 20 at his home in West Pueblo, Colo.

Road, Jean Clark of Montague Street and Frances McAtee of West Columbia Avenue, members of Belleville Chapter No. 73, OES, attended a meeting last week of Ypsilanti Chapter No. 119. Jean was a special guest of the chapter taking the part of Electa in the initiation.

Members of the Wayne County Farm Bureau, Mrs. George Robson of Tyler Road, Mrs. George Carpenter of Romulus, Mrs. Roy Schultz and Mrs. Gotz of Plymouth, were among the many who attended the meetings of the Associate Country Women of the World. The sessions were held at the First United Methodist Church in Clarkston on April 20. Dignitaries present were Claudine Jackson of the Michigan Farm Bureau Women's Committee, and Evelyn Curry of Wayne, former secretary of Wayne County Farm Bureau Women. Topics for discussion included Political Actions and Tax Information.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Meride of Denton Road have received word of the death of his sister, Mrs. Paul (Pauline) Hoyt of Clinton, on April 22. Mrs. Hoyt, who had been ill for several months, passed away while undergoing treatments at Fairfield Medical Center in Jamaica, West Indies.

Stewart Dodge of Liberty Street flew to Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada April 21 to attend the funeral of his father, William Peter

Dodge. He died at his home in St. Laurent, north of Winnipeg on April 17, the day before his golden wedding anniversary. Services and burial took place

April 22 in Winnipeg. While away, Stewart, his mother and sister stayed at the home of his brother, Bill, in Winnipeg.

Gardening courses set at Washtenaw

A practical gardening course will be offered spring and summer terms with 1-hour lecture and 3-hours lab on Saturdays from 12:30 - 4:30 p.m. Gardening skills and techniques will provide the student with the knowledge and experience for productive and successful home gardening.

Vegetable and flower selection, cultivation, and harvesting will be the focus of this course. So sign up for an eventful and profitable adventure!

Senior Citizens are admitted free. For registration information call the Ypsilanti Center of WCC at 482-2230.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES F. MURREY

Golden year party honors Murreys

The Suburban Estates Clubhouse was the setting April 22 for the party which celebrated the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. James Fort Murrey of 3 Ash Dr. Belleville.

The Murreys, who have been area residents for the past two years, were married April 26, 1928 in the court house of Russellville, Ky. Mrs. Murrey, the former Pauline Stratton of Olmstead, Ky., later became the mother of three children, the grandmother of 12 and the great-grandmother of seven.

Hosting the party were the couple's two daughters and one son; Dorothy Fountaine and her husband, Jerold, of Canton; Elaine Flynn and her husband, Donald, of Farmington, and Boyd Murrey and his wife, Janet, of Baldwin.

Highlighting the get-together was a special cake made by Mrs. Murrey's sister, Mrs. Max Heimann, as well as other dishes contributed by family and friends.

For the happy occasion, Mrs. Murrey donned a pink polyester gown to which she pinned her corsage of white carnations, pink baby roses and baby's breath.

Mr. Murrey retired in 1971 from Metro Transit Bus Company after 34 years of service. He and his wife are members of the Church of Christ in Belleville.

Mrs. Muriel Smith of Liberty Street was a recent weekend guest of her niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nanasy of Perry. While there she attended a birthday party for Mrs. Nanasy held at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. John Lindquist of Morrice.

On Sunday, the two sisters, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Lindquist, were present at the 36th wedding anniversary dinner of their brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Benjamin of Fowlerville, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Anderson of Fowlerville.

Weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Loria of Edgemont Street were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Loria of Gaylord. The senior Lorias were enroute to their home on Otsego Lake after spending the winter in Florida.

Mrs. Edgar Quinley of Sumpter Road recently returned home after having attended the funeral of an aunt, Mrs. Edna Adkins of Detroit. Mrs. Adkins passed away suddenly April 16. Burial took place in Corbin, Ky.

Relatives and friends from Belleville who were in Mt. Pleasant April 21 to attend the funeral of Mrs. Keith (Barbara) Feight were Mr. and Mrs. Don Dickerson of Sumpter Road, Mr. and Mrs. Ebert Bullard of Hull Road, Mrs. Joyce Hallett of Sherwood Road, Mrs. Gertrude Burkus of Liberty Street and Mrs. Elizabeth Leschinsky of East Columbia Avenue.

Mrs. Feight died April 19 after a lingering illness. She was the daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Feight, formerly of East Huron River Drive.

After having been a patient at Beyer Hospital for the past several days, Fred Guilstorf is now convalescing at his home on West Columbia Avenue.

Elda Bohl of Robson

Elda Bohl is hostess at shower

Mrs. Elda Bohl was hostess for a cradle shower honoring her granddaughter, Mrs. Brian (Sue) Wilkinson of Romulus, on the afternoon of April 23.

Some 40 relatives and friends from Farmington Heights, Flat Rock, Romulus, New Boston, Westland, Saline, Dexter, Ypsilanti and Belleville enjoyed card bingo with appropriate awards.

A buffet supper was served at tables decorated with spring flowers. A cousin, Cindy Griffin of Farmington Heights, assisted the honoree in opening the many useful gifts for the expected newcomer.

WMHS graduates set wedding date

MISS SPEARS

Two graduates of Wayne Memorial High School, Marilyn Spears and Lawrence William Stone, are engaged and making plans for their May 20 altar date.

The daughter of Mrs. Gloria Wheeler of Romulus, the bride-elect is a student at Kalamazoo Valley Community College and is also employed at Topper's Sly Fox in Kalamazoo.

Her fiancé, the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Stone of Wayne, is enrolled in the aviation mechanics program at Western Michigan University.

Mrs. Betty Fulton of Liberty Street returned home last week after having spent some time in Florida. Meeting her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Love Jr. and their two children, and the senior Alex Loves of Blackwood, N.J., they spent several days at Fort Lauderdale, Orlando, Disney World and St. Augustine.

Mrs. Eric Anderson of Silver Springs, Md., was a guest last Saturday at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Samuel H. Robbe of East Huron River Drive.

For two performances

EMU's Mastermimes draw on 50 scripts

The Eastern Michigan University MasterMimes will portray the silly behavior of Olympic racers, make a mockery of a Picasso painting and explore the anguish of a mirrored image through the art of pantomime in performances Saturday and Sunday at 8 p.m. in Quirk Auditorium on the EMU campus.

The MasterMimes feature two advanced performers—Rick Underwood and Alex Kerr—who will provide an evening's entertainment drawn from a repertory of nearly 50 scripts ranging in length from 30 seconds to 10 minutes.

The performance will include everything from literal pantomimicry in the style of Marcel Marceau to a Swiss style called "Mummenshanz." Parts of the performance will feature complete abstraction and experimental mime. Underwood and Kerr will present a program ranging "from the foolishness of silent film slapstick to the profoundest explorations of the depths of human depravity."

Underwood, an EMU graduate, has worked in several of Eastern's MasterMime performances and played major roles in productions of the EMU Players including "Royal Hunt of the Sun," "Mother Courage," "The Tempest," "Measure for Measure," "The Visit," "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" and "Tom Sawyer."

Following graduation, he worked at the Studio Company of the Meadowbrook Theatre in Rochester where he performed major roles in "Anthony and Cleopatra," "Twelfth Night," "The Winter's Tale," "Richard III," "The Country Wife" and "The Long Voyage Home."

After leaving Meadowbrook, Underwood impersonated Stan Laurel as a member of a Laurel and Hardy Act, which played night clubs and fairs throughout Canada, the East Coast, Midwest and California. He has returned to Eastern to complete his master's degree in theatre arts and to pursue additional mime training.

Alex Kerr is a dramatic arts graduate of Olivet College and performed in all of the productions staged by the college's drama department while he was there. He served as director of theatre at Milan High School where he taught mime and pantomime as part of the acting classes. He returned to school at EMU this year and has worked on abstract mime and masked mime. In addition he has studied clown technique with Buffo.

He has performed in several EMU Players productions including "Oedipus," "Caesar and Cleopatra" and "The House of Blue Leaves."

The MasterMimes are directed by James Gousseff, director of theatre at Eastern and author of the most extensive anthology of pantomime scripts ever published. Gousseff has directed the MasterMimes since the company began performing at Eastern in 1963.

The performance will mark the first time the MasterMimes have performed alone before an audience in Quirk Auditorium.

Tickets for the performance are $2 and are on sale at the Quirk Theatre Box Office. The Box Office is open weekdays from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. and on the days of the performance from 12:30 to 8:30 p.m. Telephone reservations may be made by calling 487-1221.

Picnics can have earlier days flavor

Groups can have a picnic flavored with Early America and a gathering with a turn-of-the-century pace at Greenfield Village beginning May 1.

Three programs — A Day at Our Park, An Early Evening at Our Park and An Evenings at Our Park — run May through September, offering various combinations of attractions for groups of 150 or more.

Main attractions in all three programs are the picnic-style supper at Suwanee Park and the turn-of-the-century trappings of the park itself, complete with an antique merry-go-round and a nostalgic arcade with old-time games. Nearby are more than 80 historic village buildings.

Another highlight during July and August is the Old Time Summer Festival, which includes strolling minstrels, a musical revue, a medicine show and historic vignettes.

The staff of the Travel and Convention Department, Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum is available to work with representatives of any interested group in planning the events. For further information, call 271-1620, ext. 412.

Traveling Gourmet

The entire dinner was excellently prepared . . . and served . . . as well as any high classed and priced restaurant, but at a moderate price.

Several other items need mentioning. A birthday pancake, courtesy of Perkins, is for anyone having a birthday . . . Recently a 90-year-old man came in with his daughter on his birthday and was given a pancake with a candle on top. "Happy Birthday" was sung by several of the waitresses. Several weeks later the daughter called to say that her father had been very depressed and that Perkins had perked him up . . .

Another item that needs mentioning is that Nick knows most of the regulars by name . . . and they know him . . . Also, the flag that flies outside day and night is 20 feet by 40 feet and was instituted by the National Co. for Patriotism . . .

Nick's motto is "good food . . . good service . . . clean place".

Maybe . . . you can have your cake and eat it, too . . . by visiting Perkins . . .

Charles Kavalovski, principal French horn with the Boston Symphony Orchestra, will present a lecture-recital next Thursday at 8 p.m. in 230 Alexander Music Hall on the campus of Eastern Michigan University. Kavalovski has been principal French horn with the Boston Symphony since 1972, having come from the Denver Symphony where he also was principal horn. He has appeared as soloist with both the Denver and Boston Symphony orchestras, as well as numerous other Boston musical organizations. The lecture-recital, which is sponsored by the EMU Office of Campus Life, is open to the public without charge. Young horn players of all ages especially are encouraged to attend to hear the views and artistry of Kavalovski. For further information, call the EMU Department of Music at 487-0244.

Hilberry announces summer fest lineup

At Wayne State University's Hilberry Theatre, there will be three openings in one day when the Summer Theatre Festival opens July 5.

"The Amorous Flea," the Hilberry Repertory Company's revival of its 1977-78 musical success, will open on the Hilberry stage at 8:30 p.m. following performances at the American College Theatre Festival in Washington, D.C., in April. The Jerry Devine-Bruce Montgomery version of Moliere's "The School for Wives" again will feature Erick Devine, Cynthia Dozier and Bruce Matley and will be directed by Robert T. Hazzard.

"Bohikee Creek" by Robert Unger, a series of four vignettes about life in a South Carolina swampland, will debut at the same hour in the Studio Theatre downstairs. It will be performed by the Festival's Black Theatre Company under the direction of Martin Molson.

"Step on a Crack," a children's play by Suzan Zeder, opens the same day at 10:30 a.m. on the upstairs stage. It will be presented by a cast of Hilberry Company actors. Gary M. Witt will direct.

The festival will include four other productions. On the upstairs stage, Agatha Christie's "Ten Little Indians," directed by Robert Emmett McGill, will open July 19 at 8:30 p.m. and Alan Ayck-bourn's "How the Other Half Loves," directed by Robert T. Hazzard, will have its first performance Aug. 2 at 8:30 p.m. In the Studio, a puppet show conceived and directed by Philip Micheal, will open July 26 at 1 p.m., and a double bill consisting of Tom Stoppard's "The Real Inspector Hound" and Noel Coward's "Red Peppers," directed by N. Joseph Calarco, is scheduled to begin Aug. 2 at 8:30 p.m. Performances will be weekly Wednesday through Saturday, plus three Tuesday children's matinees, from July 5 through Aug. 12.

This is the eighth summer festival at the Hilberry Theatre. The summer program was started in 1969 and has been repeated each summer except two—in 1973 and last summer.

New National Smoker Study:

MERIT proven major alternative to high tar smoking—see results below.

The first real alternative—major alternative—to high tar smoking has just been reaffirmed by extensive new research conducted among thousands of smokers.

That alternative: MERIT.

Nationwide Studies—Thousands Of Smokers Involved

The research involved a complete spectrum of smokers from both high and low tar backgrounds. It was conducted nationwide and in two parts:

1. A nationwide taste-test comparison against leading high tar cigarettes.
2. Detailed interviews with current MERIT smokers from all over the U.S.

© Philip Morris Inc. 1978
Kings: 8 mg "tar," 0.6 mg nicotine av. per cigarette, FTC Report Aug. '77 100's: 11 mg "tar," 0.8 mg nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

Could MERIT taste hold its own against high tar brands? Does MERIT satisfy smokers over a long period—or do MERIT smokers find themselves slipping back to old favorites and switching around?

The results will interest you:

Confirmed: Majority of high tar smokers rate MERIT taste equal to—or better than—high tar cigarettes tested! Cigarettes having up to twice the tar.

Confirmed: 9 out of 10 MERIT smokers not considering other brands.

Confirmed: 85% of MERIT smokers say it was an "easy switch" from high tar brands.

Confirmed: Overwhelming majority of MERIT smokers say their former high tar brands weren't missed!

Confirmed: Majority of high tar smokers confirm taste satisfaction of low tar MERIT.

First Major Alternative To High Tar Smoking

MERIT has proven conclusively that it not only delivers the flavor of high tar brands but continues to satisfy!

This ability to satisfy over long periods of time could be the most important evidence to date that MERIT is what it claims to be: the first major alternative to high tar smoking.

Perkins' Cake & Steak

"You can't have your cake and eat it, too" ... A cliché that was spoken some years ago, it's not applicable when it comes to the Perkins Cake and Steak House, located at 501 S. Wayne Road in Westland.

In 1953, two men — Ivan and Matt Perkins — decided that it wasn't just an idea they had of making something different in the line of dining out at a restaurant with a family theme and with food of every type and description on the menu.

The Perkins family, long established in Strongsville, Ohio, started with one restaurant and now have some 350 in operation in 30 states coast-to-coast, with another 40 planned to open this year.

Although there are only four in the State of Michigan, others are planned. And with all Perkins' restaurants, they are franchised, owned individually.

To insure the standards of high quality food products and yet keep the costs down to the individual diner, Perkins owns and operates their own flour mills and make all their own syrups, which then are sold to the individually owned houses.

In Westland, the Perkins Cake and Steak is owned and run by Nick and Karen Moran, who live in Plymouth with their two boys — Chris, 7, and Weston, 5 — who both have a desire to join in the family business with their parents.

Nick, 37, is a handsome man and of a genuine enthusiasm both for the business and his desire to serve people ... Nick could be described as a "people person" since in the time I spent learning about his business, he talked of his "regular" customers, as well as "liking people".

Born and raised in Wisconsin, after high school, Nick joined the Air Force and served four years from 1959 to 1963 in Athens, Greece, and France. After returning home, Nick decided to go to college and graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1967 with a master's degree in English.

As the editor of the school paper in college he thought he might explore the various career opportunities open with his background. Nick became a teacher in Medina, Wis., and eas at the senior high school for 3½ years. He decided that he should move on and try something new in life so in 1967 he joined the Oscar Meyer Corp. as a food service and retail supervisor in upstate New York.

Nick later flew from New York to Westland, liked the area and believed a strong potential was there for this type of operation. And after some consideration on a location, he built and opened the Perkins Restaurant in 1976.

Nick has some nine cooks and four full-time managers whom he personally has trained in the food preparation business. Karen serves as the head hostess and trains all the waitresses, of which there presently are some 15 on staff. With warming weather coming, the staff will be increased to about 35 to allow for vacations and a heavier volume of business that the nicer weather brings.

In order to get the best dollar value for fresh foods that are purchased, Nick follows the Wall Street Journal religiously and so far, it has proven very successful in holding down the cost for the customer.

Nick feels that he gets good community support as evidenced in the 4,500 to 5,000 customers a week, with some 700 on Saturday and 900 on Sunday. The volume of "every day" customers also is growing. Nick is quick to point out that Perkins is not a "fast food" type operation. Food is prepared in a sit-down style, catering to families of all sizes ... including a family of 14 that comes in once a month for either a family breakfast after church or a dinner in the evening. Another regular type of customer is a group of factory workers who get off work at 5 a.m. and have a steak dinner at least twice a week at that time of the morning ...

In an average week, the amount of food served is quite staggering to the imagination ... 900 pancakes (about 50 gallons of homemade batter with fresh butter and eggs) ... 30 pounds of T-bones ... 20 pounds of New York strips ... 40 pounds of liver ... 30 pounds of ribs ... 200 of the popular ham and cheese omelettes to ... and more than 100 pounds of ocean perch for the special dinner on Friday nights.

Nick changes the special, that's served from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m., everyday. There are 12 current varieties, to be expanded in the near future, and carry-out orders are available on all menu items.

The decor at Perkins is richly done in a colonial style, both inside and outside. The ceilings are accoustical for minimum noise level, with easy listening music "piped" in. The booths are cushioned in a royal blue color, and the tables and chairs are in the wooden colonial style. The carpeting is done in green and gold with crestlike effect in the pattern. The chandeliers are of the wagon wheel style with lanterns at each spoke end. There is a room divider down the middle of the dining area, nicely done to afford privacy with an open feeling. The windows are done in a diamond grid effect, and various hanging plants give the dining room a homelike atmosphere.

The kitchen area is immaculate, with a pass through from the cooking area to the waitress station featuring a French masert roof over the entire area. Heat lamps are on the counter top to insure a piping hot meal from the cook to the waitress to the diner.

The salad bar has many items, including lettuce, tomatoes, rings of green pepper and onion, chi beans, beets, croutons, macaroni salad, Greek Salad in sauce and a three-bean salad. Dressings include Italian, French, creamy garlic, roquefort and vinegar and oil. A revolving refrigerated dessert display is filled with cakes, pies, pastries and sweet rolls to intrigue not only adults but children as well.

Local, as well as Detroit area newspapers, are there for the diner to read while having a meal, and of course, the Wall Street Journal ...

Most unusual is the Wayne-Westland Arts Association display of paintings that are for sale and are changed every two months or as they are sold.

One of the most extensive menus I've ever seen, this one includes some 18 gourmet pancake items from $1.15 for a short stack of buttermilk pancakes to the potato roll-ups (potato cakes) wrapped around your choice of a meat (ham, corned beef, roast beef or turkey) filling for $2.35. Waffles range from a Perkins golden crisp at $1.35 to a double Perkins for $2.50, with everything in between, including strawberry, blueberry, apple, peach ... Eggs and omelettes range from two eggs with three pancakes for $1.75 to a ham and cheese omelette for $2.55. With the dishes are a choice of pancakes, toast or grits.

Steaks and dinners include beef liver at $2.95, fish and chips at $2.95, Perkins' steak and shrimp at $5.75 to the T-bone at $6.95. With all dinners there is a choice of potato, soup or juice, salad bar, rolls and butter.

Sandwiches range from the big Ole (shaved ham on a baked roll) with french fries and a pickle for $2.15 to the beefeater (open-faced steak) with french fries at $3.15.

Side orders of mushrooms, fries, onion rings and others also are available, as are calorie counting items and a "Kid's Corner". Desserts include ice cream (50 cents) and cheesecake with fruit topping at $1.45. Beverages include soft drinks at 40 cents, tea, coffee and milk and others, as well as juices at 35 cents.

DINNER AT PERKINS ... CLAM CHOWDER New England style ... hot, creamy, delicious.

SALAD ... crisp lettuce, tomato, rings of green pepper, onion, croutons with creamy garlic dressing ... very good.

HAM AND CHEESE OMELETTE ... smoky ham and mild cheese inside with bits of cheese and ham sprinkled on top ... one of the best I've tasted.

BUTTERMILK PANCAKES ... light, moist ... very good ... maple syrup heated.

T-BONE STEAK ... cooked to perfection ... medium rare is the best way to get the flavor I believe.

ONION RINGS ... super. RIBS ... served with meat up ... good, tangy sauce ... so tender the meat falls off the bone ... excellent.

FRENCH FRIES ... crispy outside ... golden brown ... hot and moist inside ... great.

HASH BROWNS ... browned to perfection outside, super inside ... topped with butter.

BAKED POTATO ... done just right ... filled with butter ... moist ... great.

ROLLS ... fresh and tasty.

DESSERT ... French apple crepe ... batter very light and super delicious ... filled with sliced apples, hot cinnamon glaze and whipped cream ... fantastic.

RICK BLAHA

RON MASON

Rick Blaha and Ron Mason know where they are going after they complete Wayne Memorial.

Meanwhile, the two seniors are making their rivals bite dust. Both came away from the prestigious Bedford Relays with impressive victories.

Blaha, one of the finest distance runners in the state, was clocked in 9:31.6 in winning the 2-mile run and setting a Bedford Relays record en route. The performance was also Rick's lifetime best.

The 18-year-old senior didn't stop there - he came back and won the mile in record-setting fashion. Blaha's 4:28.3 for the mile set him up as the man to beat in the state for the event.

Mason came away with a gold medal for his 2:01.1 performance for the half-mile.

"Both Blaha and Mason have accepted full-ride scholarships to Wayne State," announced Wayne

Coach Ernie Righetti. "They're tough now and you can only speculate what they're going to do in the future."

Wayne finished fifth with 47 points at Bedford as Edsel Ford won the invitational with a total of 82 points. Ypsilanti was a close second and Tecumseh was third.

Wayne also received a third place effort from Doug Tolson in the two mile and he also finished sixth in the mile. The Zebras' mile relay team of Tim Dean, Mark Michalowski, Roy Reges and Mason turned in a 3:33.0, their best time this season which was good for a third place.

Romulus' stellar high jumper Donald Grandison settled for third place as he cleared 6'4" after successfully negotiating 6'8" earlier in the week in a meet against Dearborn Heights Annapolis.

Coach Al Wilkerson also had a pair of fifth place performances from Derron Cline, in the discus (127'8") and Larry Young, in the 220-yard dash (23.3). Gary Seracy placed sixth in the long jump with a 20'2 1/4" performance.

"I think our kids are suffering from a mental letdown caused by a loss to Ypsilanti," said Wilkerson. "We have had our highs and lows and we're ready to lift ourselves from a valley."

Meanwhile, Wayne will get another look at Ypsilanti and a score of other area schools on Saturday when the Zebras host their annual invitational. Competition will begin at 10 a.m.

Ypsi, the defending champ, will be challenged by undefeated Livonia Franklin, which also has its eyes on the first place trophy.

The field also will include Dearborn Heights Riverside, Dearborn, Westland John Glenn, Romulus, Garden City West, Belleville, Robichaud, Ecorse, Trenton, Fordson, Adrian and Allen Park.

There are 10 running events, five field events and three open - the 100-yard dash, the 120-yard high hurdles and the 2-mile run.

The Sports Meridian

A young athlete is remembered

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

It was cold and windy last Saturday evening.

And while most sought the comfort of their homes and the television sets, some 400 Plymouth and Canton residents attended a special track meet between two arch-rival high schools - Salem and Canton.

The fans, along with the athletes, coaches and school officials were there for a good reason: in memory of a young athlete, Jeff Mangan, whose death a year ago shocked the community.

The 17-year-old Salem track and wrestling star died after apparent complication of an appendectomy operation.

"We have what we call a Jeff Mangan Memorial Track Trophy," said Salem Coach Gary Balconi who knew Jeff as a junior high student, then coached him in high school. "This trophy is presented to the winner of the meet between our two schools. But there is a catch - each school must field both a boys' as well as girls' team and the final results are tabulated from the combined totals."

Balconi related that Jeff was known by athletes and students from both schools and was an outstanding prospect before his untimely death.

"I taught Jeff when he was a sixth grader at Pioneer Middle School and watched him develop into a fine all-around athlete," Balconi continued. "In high school he specialized in the quarter and half-mile events. Of course none of us ever thought, I guess we never do, that his life would be cut short."

Last year Mangan's teammates and friends organized a car wash and the monies raised helped to purchase a 4 by 8 feet record board which is presently displayed at the school. There is a picture of the young athlete on the board and in letters inscribed: Jeff Mangan Memorial Record Board.

Proceeds from the inaugural Mangan Memorial Track Meet went towards the purchase of more than $125 in track training films. This year's proceeds, Balconi said, will help purchase equipment for the four teams.

Philosophers say that as long as one is remembered in thought or word, he never really dies.

If this is accepted, then the young athlete who was known and loved by so many, has eternal life.

Intercepted letter

And, on the same sport, but a different subject: anyone who has taken a group of young athletes to a tournament or invitational knows how difficult it is sometimes to get the necessary cooperation from the group.

Sometimes these kids can get downright rowdy and destructive and this desk has been the recipient of many complaints about young athletes, "who'll never make the trip again because of disciplinary reasons."

Consequently, it is like a breath of fresh air when we receive letters, intercepted at that, from hotel managers commending the activities of our local athletes. The following letter was sent to Romulus track coach Al Wilkerson from Roy W. Johnston, manager of Big Rapids Motel. It reads:

Dear Mr. Wilkerson,

It gives me great pleasure to write this letter and compliment you on your team's behavior while they were guests of the Big Rapids Motel.

We see many athletes each year and it is always evident to our staff those that have good coaching leadership. Your young athletes were serious about their objectives and were model guests in both our restaurant and motel.

We will look forward to a return visit next year.

Keep up the good coaching. Our young people sure need good strong leadership these days. I am sure these visits away from home help to develop you people even more.

Sincerely yours, Roy W. Johnston.

And may we add it was nice of Mr. Johnston to take time out and write the complimentary letter. Many times hotel and motel managers take their guests for granted.

Salem '9' takes 2 from LF

After being in the coach's doghouse for what was labeled the worst performance in 11 years, Plymouth Salem returned to the good graces of Coach Brian Gillies after sweeping both ends of a doubleheader from Livonia Franklin.

Salem unleashed its awesome - the Rocks collected 21 hits in the two games - artillery to win the opener 6-3 behind Bruce Piper's three-hitter and sealed the nightcap, 10-7, with Doug Holloway going five for the victory.

"We did a complete turnaround," Gillies said. "Against Wayne we looked horrendous - against Franklin we were a different team."

Franklin's Ron Hellier pointed out that a play early in the first game resulted in an injury to veteran catcher and co-captain Jim Wilson and the Patriots didn't look the same after the incident.

Wilson was protecting the plate when Salem's Dave Wilcox plowed into him. Wilson sustained a shoulder injury and will be sidelined for the week.

Franklin got on the scoreboard in the first inning when Chris Baker doubled home Tim Kuzara who had singled to get on. Salem came back in the bottom of that inning for two runs, increased their margin by two in the third and held off the Patriots who struck for two in the fourth. In that fourth Ron Reeter led off with a homer, then Jeff Sergison singled and scored on Ron Schwab's double.

Piper, the winning pitcher, aided his cause with a double and two singles, driving home three runs. Bill Kral helped out with a pair of hits off of starter Daryl Watkins who worked the first three innings, gave up four runs and walked none.

Salem erupted for nine runs in the second to salt away the second game. Holloway found himself going back to preserve his victory after he was relieved by Perry Scautraz who gave up four runs in the sixth.

Bob Waite helped to rout starter Chris Baker who had given up nine runs in the 1-2-3 innings on the mound. Baker gave way to Ken Webster who in turn was relieved by Jeff Aguzzi. Hellier also used Craig Jones in the sixth and seventh inning and the rugged lefthander struck out six and gave up one hit.

"The game may have been a blessing in disguise as Jones showed he has the potential to pitch," Hellier added.

John Mazurek chalked up a double and single while Tom Hollandsworth carved out two singles in three trips for the Livonians. The defeat left the Patriots with an even .500 (4-4 overall record), while Salem boosted its mark to 8-3 on the year.

In the nightcap, Matt Etienne blasted a solo homer and a single and Sam Merrill laced a pair of hits while Waite had three for four. Wilcox socked two hits.

Meanwhile, Franklin scored single runs in the sixth and seventh innings to get past Thurston 4-3 for a Northwest Suburban victory. Ken

Whirling and swirling

Whirling and swirling to gain momentum to hurl the discus, Westland John Glenn's Dan O'Brien is rounding into shape to compete in Saturday's prestigious Wayne Memorial Relays. The third annual running of the relays has lured a score of area teams, including Ypsilanti, the defending, undefeated champ. The Braves, who have one of the fastest mile relay teams in the state, would have to defend their title from the likes of Livonia Franklin whose credentials also include a perfect dual meet record and a triumph at the recent Dearborn Elks Relays.

1st Rocket triumph

Glenn jolts North

Norm Hoenes isn't one to use superlatives but, after John Glenn did an about face and handed North Farmington its first baseball setback in the league, the Rocket coach couldn't be stopped.

"We played absolutely perfect ball. We were super," Hoenes said after marring North's Northwest Suburban record, 4-1, and scrambling the title race. "Everything we did was right and it goes to show that these kids can play excellent ball when they need to."

Glenn pounded out nine hits to back up junior righthander Ralph McKenzie's five-hit pitching effort. McKenzie walked none while striking out four to hand Jeff Thomas his first personal loss of the league campaign.

Not only was Glenn's pitching near-flawless and their hitting timely, but the defense pulled off a rare triple play in the first inning as Mike Plocharczyk teamed up with Tim Ruark and Doug Martin to erase a serious North threat.

Glenn drew blood first as Craig Walker drilled a leadoff single, then Thomas gave up walks to Jim Irwin and Jim Remington, loading the bases. Doug Martin singled home Walker but Thomas managed to get out of the inning without further damage. In the second the Rockets increased their lead 2-0 as Bill Robertson tripled and scored on Rick Robinson's fielder's choice.

North made it a 2-1 ball game in the bottom of the second, but the Westlanders got some insurance runs in the fifth as Irwin launched the inning with a single, raced to second when Remington singled and both moved up on a wild pitch, then John Mervyn's base hit chased them home.

It was Glenn's only league victory of the week as Thurston edged the Rockets 4-3 and Franklin beat them, 6-5.

Starting pitcher Robertson and Coach Hoenes weren't around for the end of the game as they were ejected for disputing a call too audibly.

Glenn tied the game at 3-3 in the bottom of the sixth as losing pitcher, reliever Pat Kaltenbach, singled and Robinson doubled. Walker then singled home one run and with runners on first and third Ruark doubled, scoring both runs.

Thurston resolved the problem in its favor in the eighth as a pair of singles and a sacrifice scored the winning run.

The Westlanders however ended the week on the winning side as they subdued a highly-touted Livonia Stevenson team 6-3 with starter Jim Demaray, who needed relief help from Kaltenbach, received credit for the victory. Kaltenbach gathered goose eggs for four innings.

Walker got to loser Art Wendt, who was yanked in the third, for three hits.

North, with a 3-1 record, ended the week of action in first place while Franklin (2-1) was one notch down, followed by Thurston (2-2), Glenn (1-2) and Garden City East (0-2).

Salem runners fall

A gritty comeback in the stretch by Plymouth Salem thinclads wasn't enough to overcome a 15-point Trenton bulge last Thursday and the Rocks fell to their Suburban 8 Conference track rivals 81-76.

It was the first loss for Coach Gary Balconi's runners who will take a 2-1 record up against Dearborn on Thursday. The Rocks will host the meet.

"They had a 15 point lead on us," Balconi related, "and we needed to win the 440-yard dash in order to pull it out, however, our runners went 3-4-5 in that one and that did it."

Balconi pointed out that though his

There's new hope on the Wayne horizon

Though they trail league-leading Monroe by two games, don't count Coach Jim Chronowski and his Zebras out of the Great Lakes 8 Conference baseball race.

Wayne stunned Monroe 6-3, handing the Trojans their first loss of the season and, "anything can happen before this is all over," pointed out Chronowski. "We have a suspended make-up game with Truman and there's still the second round to go, so I wouldn't count us out of this thing."

Chronowski used his trump, ace hurler Jim Canfield to silence

Monroe and the senior pitcher came back with a seven-hitter, good enough for his third win against no losses. Canfield also fanned eight and walked only one.

The Wayne veteran hurler helped his own cause with three hits and an RBI, while Doug McGill pounded a triple that drove in Ray Layton who had singled in the pivotal fourth inning. Up to then Wayne had a 3-1 lead and the Zebras widened it to 4-1. McGill finished the day with a pair of hits as did Mark Zerona who also walked with bases loaded and worked a squeeze play to score another run.

Wyandotte tossed a wrench into Wayne's title plans as Bruin hurler Rich Baker checked his rivals on a three-hitter and went on to blank Wayne 2-0.

Korte, who took the loss, went the distance and accounted for two of the three Zebras hits. He banged out a single and double while Canfield got the other hit.

Lincoln Park rallied in the last of the seventh to edge Wayne 5-4 as the Parkers cashed in on three unearned runs. Greg Stano, who was relieved by Rich Porter in the fifth, but came back in the seventh was charged with the loss. Stano walked the leadoff batter in the seventh, and Chronowski came back with Porter, got the next man on a groundout, then wild pitched him to third. The decisive run scored on a suicide attempt with the base runner getting credit for stealing home.

Wayne scored one run in the second inning and two in the fourth and another in the seventh. Canfield collected three hits, one a double and a homer to lead off the fourth.

Saturdays apparently bring the best out of the Zebras who won a pair from Ann Arbor Huron 6-3 and 7-4. It was the second weekend that they had won both ends of doubleheaders.

Southpaw Mark Solarz (2-1) struck out five, walked five and gave up six hits to get credit for the opener. Four players - McGill, Jeff Smart, Ray Layton and Larry Vojtkofsky each had two hits.

In the nightcap, Stano checked Huron with a seven hitter as he fanned six and walked two and was relieved with one-away in the sixth by Korte who finished up.

Wayne put four runs on the board in the fifth as Greg Kozub was safe on an error, Dan Perusse hit a grounder to third who threw the ball away and both runners advanced on Brian Westphal's sacrifice. After Smart fanned, the ball hit the dirt and the speedy ball player bolted for first and Kozub raced home on the play. Ken Brown singled in the second run and a pair of errors allowed the next two to score.

Both Smart and Canfield had two hits in the game as the Zebras built up their over-all image to 8-5 going the first week of May.

Up and at it

Weathered out most of the season, area pole vaulters are having their problems reaching their heights, however, with the advent of warmer temperatures, performances should improve correspondingly. Here Westland John Glenn's Joe Stailey is having his problems negotiating 10 feet. Stailey and the Rockets have an "off day" last week, but will return to action on Thursday against Garden City East.

Ypsi shatters Romulus dream

Ypsilanti shattered Romulus' dream of completing the 1978 track and field season with an untarnished record. The Braves handed Coach Al Wilkerson's Eagles an 84-74 setback and one of the key figures in the Ypsi victory was Duane Lee, a transfer from Romulus to Ypsilanti.

Lee won the 330-yard low hurdles, putting five big points into the Ypsilanti column. "But we also gave up three relays," commented Coach Al Wilkerson, "and that hurt. In fact, in the 440-relay we lost by two-tenths of a second. A bad initial exchange was our undoing, though Richard Lewis and Larry Young really cut into the Braves' lead."

The 84-74 Romulus loss came after the Eagles had subdued Dearborn Heights Annapolis 140-18 for their third consecutive victory. In that meet, Romulus' Donald Grandison cleared the bar at 6'8" to set a school record. His performance against the Braves dipped to 6'4".

Salem '9' takes 2

Baker walked in the sixth and was tripled home by Reeter to tie the score, then in the seventh, Gary DeYonker singled, stole second and scored when Wilson a line shot past the third baseman. Sergison fanned one and walked three in tossing a five hitter. Webster got credit for his second win.

On Wednesday, Franklin stopped cross-town rival, Stevenson twice, 5-2 and 5-3, in a nonleague affair. In the opener Webster notched 10 strikeouts and walked two in pitching his finest game thus far of the season.

Wilson came up with two hits and three RBIs, including a homer in the third, while Reeter chipped in with two hits, including a double and triple while DeYonker went two for four.

Left-hander Jeff Aguzzi fanned seven and walked five as Franklin won the nightcap.

A six-run outburst in the fifth and a tripleplay highlighted Salem's 10-3 drubbing of Northville. The Rocks pelted Northville's pitchers for 14 hits as John Lewelling had three and three RBIs, while Paul Dillon also knocked in three runs on three hits. Wilcox finished the day with two for four.

Northville loaded the bases in the sixth when a line shot at first baseman Bob Waite resulted in a tripleplay. Waite stepped on the bag for the second out and fired the ball over to Kral at second for the final out in the inning.

Etienne, a left-hander who gave up three hits, was the winning pitcher but wasn't around for the triple play as he was relieved by Straus. Gillies also used John Holdsworth in the seventh. John is the younger brother of Fred Holdsworth who started his professional ball career in the Tiger farm system and is presently pitching for the Montreal Expos.

A three-run last of the sixth rally lifted Salem to a 6-2 victory over Trenton in the league. Barry Owens struck out six and walked three to chalk up the victory, departing from the game in the sixth in favor of reliever Holdsworth.

Adray baseball tryouts are set

The Westland Youth Athletic Association will conduct tryouts for the Adray Division team on Sunday.

The tryouts will be held at Rotary Park diamond, Marquette, behind the Stottemyer School. Practice will begin at 1 p.m.

Players who are in the 16 to 19 age bracket are invited to try out for the teams. They should report to Jerry Fisher at the field.

For further information please contact Coach Fisher at 421-0280 or Russ Lampinen at 722-6164.

Cherry Hill '9' victory streak snaps at six

Cherry Hill finally learned what it's like losing a baseball game this year.

The previously undefeated Spartans ran up against Taylor Kennedy, the defending Tri-River Conference champ, last Wednesday and dropped a cliffhanger, 1-0.

That close encounter also may have been the reason for Cherry Hill's 6-4 loss to a so-so Dearborn Heights Riverside team on Friday.

Spartan Coach Ken Mientkiewicz explains: "We just went flat after losing to Kennedy. When you lose a 1-0 game to the defending champs you're bound to have a psychological letdown the next time out - and we had one."

First the Kennedy game: Rick Searcy, a junior righthander, dueled Kennedy's Dave Waddell who tossed a two-hitter to keep the Eagles atop of the league. (Both teams were 2-0 going into the league confrontation).

Searcy was the victim of an unearned run in the third as Bob Zagrai lled off with a single, moved to second on a fielder's choice, but was erased when John Olsen hit a grounder, getting Zahrai at third, but the throw to first was wide, allowing Olsen to advance to second.

Tim Sieloff came through for the champs as he laced a run-scoring single that proved to be the difference in the game.

Waddell gave up a first inning single to Searcy and also a fourth inning single to Mark Buck which accounted for all of the Spartans' offense.

Larry Dragon, getting relief help from Mark Hammerschmidt in the fifth, managed to stop the Spartans 6-4 as the Rebels handed junior southpaw Jerome Potvin his first loss of the season. Potvin piked up six strikeouts and walked six in a seven-hit pitching effort.

The Spartans however couldn't hang on to the ball as they committed eight errors which led to five unearned runs.

Cherry Hill went ahead 1-0 in the second when Mike Doyle singled, stole second and scored on Jeff Bilek's base hit. After Riverside tied it up in the third, the Spartans again took the lead by two runs with a single by Tim Hoffer, a double by Searcy and a two-run base hit by Ron Sosnowski. Again Riverside came back and tied it and went ahead 5-3 in the top of the sixth and in the bottom of the inning Sosnowski hammered his first homer of the season.

Buck, getting relief help from Brian Hewitt in the sixth, edged Melvindale 8-7 for the Spartans' sixth straight win. Melvindale rallied for four runs in the bottom of the seventh, but never caught up. In the top of the eighth Cherry Hill scored what proved to be the winning run on walks to Hewitt and Boren and Larry Baker's game-deciding single.

Sosnowski had a triple and two other hits in four appearances at the plate and Baker latched on to three singles, driving in three runs. Buck went two for four.

Belleville '9' goes down...but Tigers not out

Losses to Salem, Redford Union dim their title hopes

Redford Union led Belleville back down the road to baseball reality as the Suburban 8 Conference foe came up with four runs in the sixth to beat Coach Dan Fisher's Tigers, 6-4.

The loss left Belleville with a respectable 3-2 league and 5-2 overall record and if the Tigers are to stay in the conference title picture a lot will depend upon what they can whip up this week against Allen Park and Bentley.

"We're definitely in this race," said Fisher, "but the outcome of this week's games will tell us where we are or are not. Allen Park and Bentley are the two pre-season title favorites but neither has been overwhelming to date."

Belleville blew a 4-0 second inning lead, R.U. which picked up two runs in the third then erupted for four in the sixth to hand starter and loser Terry Cole the setback. Cole worked five innings, struck out six and also walked six before handing over the chores to Stan Price in the bottom of the sixth. Cole was charged with five runs, four of those earned.

Kevin Hunter, who went the distance for R.U., was the winner. He got 10 strikeouts and walked three.

Belleville appeared well on its way to victory in the second as Mark Shelp made it to first on an error, then, after one was out, Rick Elgas walked and a passed ball moved up the baserunners. Paul Arnett then unleashed a two-run double and he scored when Larry Cicotte singled.

The Tigers scored in the first inning without putting the ball in play. That rarity occurred when, with two outs, Rob Laney walked, stole second and scored on the overthrow which also got past the centerfielder.

Belleville made it two in a row over arch-rival, Ypsilanti, as the Tigers humbled the Braves 10-3. Backed by Mark Shelp's five-hit pitching performance and getting relief help from Mark Darosi who worked the final two-thirds innings, Belleville exploded for five runs in the fourth inning after scoring three times in the third. Laney had a perfect four for four at the plate including two runs batted in, while he also stole bases twice.

Morrison, who was relieved in the sixth by Jim Mykowski, took the loss.

In the last of the seventh, Belleville broke a 3-all tie with a walk to Kevin Fry, Algas's single and a perfect bunt single by Arnett. With bases loaded and the Trenton outfield pulled in, Bruce Verrot drilled one over the leftfielder's head to settle the issue.

Skyles accounted for three of the Belleville six hits, all singles.

However, Salem made sure that Fisher's troops started the week in the loss column. The Rocks won a 4-3 decision as Bruce Piper, getting help from Doug Holloway and Dave Wilcox, earned the victory. Salem scored three runs off of Price in the first inning, put one run on the board in the third before Belleville countered with one in the fourth and two in the top of the seventh. That last inning went like this: Larry Cicotte walked, he moved to second when Styles' grounder was misplayed and Algas then walked. A passed ball scored Cicotte and a grounder by Shelp scored the second run, but after Wilcox walked Chuck Childers, Wilcox got the final out by getting John Nowak on a fly ball to center.

Beyer injured, Wayne's tennis fortunes diminish

Basketball usually has nothing to do with the outcome of a tennis match, but apparently the roundball figured prominently in Wayne Memorial's tennis fortunes.

Wayne's No. 1 stick, Todd Beyer, who is ranked among the top junior netters in the state, sprained his ankle, of all things, playing in a pickup basketball game. The injury forced the senior to the sidelines last week.

Consequently, to fill the void left by the injured Beyer, Coach Jack Armstrong moved Jeff Holderness up a notch and Holderness performed excellently.

But the Zebras didn't have enough depth to stop Wyandotte and emerged on the shortend of a 4-3 decision. The loss, plus an earlier 5-2 setback to Lincoln Park, left Armstrong's netters with a 3-2 Great Lakes 8 Conference record and only slim chances of winning the conference title.

"We still have a good team," Armstrong said who said he expected to have Beyer in the lineup earlier in the week. "Our doubles' teams are improving and a lot can happen between now and the conference championships."

Patriots running 'perfect'

Livonia Franklin Coach Bob Holmes doesn't do anything spectacular with his Patriot runners - they just keep on winning.

Like last week, the undefeated Livonians brushed away Garden City East 108-50 for their third consecutive Northwest Suburban Conference victory and their fourth straight dual meet win of the campaign.

"We didn't do anything spectacular," Holmes pointed out, "we just got some solid performances from our team, nothing really outstanding."

What Franklin did was sweep all five field events with Don Boka taking the discus (148'5") and the shot put (48'11 1/2"), then claim all three relays and four of the remaining running events.

Franklin also received a double victory from senior Dave Bowen who leaped 20'7" in the long jump, then came back with a 23.3 winning performance in the 220-yard dash.

Favored to win the 19th edition of the Western Wayne Relays, (held Tuesday night at Belleville High), Franklin returns to league competition on Thursday at home to Redford Thurston, a team that shouldn't pose any problems for the Patriots.

Meet results: Livonia Franklin 108, Garden City East 50.

Inkster edges Ecorse in 8th

Vikings 'never say die'

Championships teams are made up of players who don't know the meaning of "can't".

And, apparently, Inkster Coach Preston James has put together such a squad which refused "to die" Friday against Ecorse.

Trailing 2-0 going into the bottom of the sixth inning, James' Vikings scored one run, came back in the last inning with another to tie it up, then broke the deadlock in the eighth to claim a 3-2 victory and remain undefeated in the Suburban Athletic Conference.

"To their undeniable credit, these kids refused to quit," James commented. "They stood in there and pounded out this key victory."

The win left Inkster as the only undefeated SAC team and the Vikings have Robichaud (1-2) left to complete the first round.

Inkster's starter Vincent Parker was ejected from the game in the sixth for "throwing dirt on the plate," according to the officials, and Tony Smith took over and completed the duel Parker gave up single runs in the second and fourth and seven hits.

A double by Stacey Bostick which scored Alvin Dukes who had singled got the Vikings their first run, then in the seventh Marcus Woods made it to first after he had struck out and the catcher committed an error. He immediately stole second and advanced to third on Michael Clarke's grounder. A wild pitch produced the tying run.

Keith Huguley's single brought the Vikings on the road to Vikings.

Huguley also managed to steal second and a sacrifice fly moved him to third where he scored on a throwing error.

Inkster, which shares the title with Rouge, received a sterling pitching performance from Smith earlier in the week as the changeup artist notched 13 strikeouts, tossed a two-hitter in humbling River Rouge 5-0. Smith missed a coveted no-hitter when he gave up a pair of sixth inning singles to Tony Vallie and losing pitcher Greg Mussey.

The Vikings collected all of the runs they needed in the third when Clarence Miller tripled, then Dukes walked and automatically stole second. Huguley walked, loading the bases, then Smith laced a two-run single and Woods belted a base hit scoring the third run.

Smith helped his cause with a triple and single while Miller and Huguley split four hits between them.

Dukes, a southpaw, baffled Highland Park for seven innings and carded the first no-hitter in the area. He struck out 15 and walked none en route to a 13-0 victory over the ailing Parkers. The Viking hurler also collected a pair of singles and drove in a run. Huguley and Willie Garriss each had a single and double while Parker uncorked a bases-loaded double in the first inning.

However, Inkster wasted Miller's homer and a pair of RBI's and singles by Huguley in bowling to out of the league rival, Willow Run, 12-7, last week.

Move over, Olga Adams' 9th grader wins crown

Better get accustomed to seeing Natalie Kozorsky's name in print, for she's shown that she has ability, lot of it in the gruelling and demanding sport of gymnastics.

Miss Kozorsky, a ninth grade student at Adams Junior High, parlayed her performances in the tumbling, beam and floor exercise to capture the over-all gold medal for gymnastics in the Wayne-Westland Community School District school competition.

Some 105 girls from five schools - Adams, Franklin, Nankin Mills, Marshall and Stevenson junior highs took part in the meet.

Miss Kozorsky scored 8.5 (out of a perfect 10.0) in the tumbling event, chalked up 7.6 on the beam and was awarded 8.15 for her performance in the floor exercise to pull a tournamant high 24.25 for the gold medal.

The silver medal went to Stacey Krupnak also of Adams who had 18.60, while the bronze was presented to Ann Cockrum of Stevenson. A fourth place ribbon went to Mary Winekoff of Stevenson. Judy Campbell placed fifth.

Natalie was Adams' seventh grade gold medalist, however, didn't compete as a eighth grader as she was a member of the Bloomfield Hills team from Steve Whitelock school of gymnastics. She was one of seven girls selected for national screening. Miss Kozorsky will be entering Wayne Memorial this fall.

Stevenson walked off with the team championship after compiling 114.6 points while Adams was runner-up with a total of 95.95 points.

Cherry Hill runners make it 27 straight in Tri-River

The warm weather is helping Cherry Hill get the rust out of its track machine and venerable Spartan Coach Joe Grasley is smiling.

The Spartans won a triangular meet, emerging ahead of Allen Park and Taylor Truman, then moved down Tri-River Conference rival, Riverside, for their third league win in as many starts.

"The versatility of a couple of our athletes, namely Tom Minor and Darryl Gallant, has been the highlight of this team thus far," declared Grasley who sends his troops after Taylor Kennedy on Thursday. "We are getting excellent mileage from these people and I feel that some of the younger athletes will soon be joining their ranks." Cherry Hill garnered 67 points and five first places against Allen Park which had 56 points, and Truman (44). Of the five, Minor accounted for two. He ran a 10.3 for the 100 yard dash and turned in a 40.7 for the low hurdles.

The Spartan 880-yard relay team of Ivy Gregory, Darryl Gallant, John Ireland and Minor also placed first (1:36.4), while Gallant was the top quarter-miler (56.3).

Cherry Hill stretched its conference winning streak to 27 straight at the expense of Riverside, 123-34. The Spartans chalked up 10 of the 16 first places as Grasley juggled his line-up so that everyone could get a piece of the action.

Up goes the Rockets and the weights

They held the inaugural Michigan High School Power Weightlifting Championships recently and Westland John Glenn proved it had the muscle to take the first place trophy. Members of the Rocket team include (above) Tony Rysztak (out front), Dan Hutchinson (from left), who placed first at 165 Joe Kornetti, Paul Wright who placed third at 165, and (below) are Tom Sass (seated from left),

Glenn gals coast past Edsel

Westland John Glenn's Rockets snuffed out Edsel Ford 79-57 for their fourth girls' track and field victory of the season.

Coach Cheryl Caughey's team captured nine of the 14 first places with the trio of Kathy McDougall, Carin Curnutte and Debby Conboy each supplying two victories.

Miss McDougall continued to top the area in long jump as she soared 16 feet, 6 1/4 inches, then came back in the 220 and turned in the winning time of 27 seconds flat for her second win.

Miss Curnutte won the high jump and the 110-yard low hurdles competition, while Miss Conboy tossed the discus 92 feet, 3 inches and hurled the shot 28 feet, 9 1/2 inches for her two wins.

Another week like the last one and Livonia Churchill's Roy Frayer will be ready for the rest home.

Frayer is still scratching his head, trying to figure out what has happened to his team's defense. That defense was charged with 13 errors which paved the way for three losses and a tailspin send the Livonians into last place in the Western Six Conference.

"I knew we were young," said Frayer after the infamous 0-3 week. "Dave Krick and Steve Raymond are carrying this team presently and I was hoping that the others would contribute, but as yet that help hasn't materialized."

On Friday, Tri-River Conference title hopeful, Garden City West edged the Chargers 5-3 as the losers helped with their own demise by committing four errors.

Starting and losing pitcher Mike Talovich worked the first five innings and was touched for all five runs, eight hits while he struck out two and walked three.

Harold Tatrow gave up three hits, two in the sixth, to get credit for the victory. Tatrow was working on a shutout when Marty Abraham sliced a single to start off the Churchill sixth, then Dave Colley got aboard on an infield hit and Krick then hammered his second four-bagger of the season, the ball rolling some 365 feet to the school building.

West picked up a run in the first inning, then put two runs on the board in each of the third and fourth innings.

Farmington Harrison cut down Churchill 8-2 as senior righthander Jeff Morris took the loss. He notched six strikeouts, walked four and gave up nine hits, but it was defense which counted five errors that decided the game again.

Churchill and Harrison exchanged first inning runs as Krick got the Chargers on the board with a leadoff single, stole second and Mike Devlin laced a run-scoring single. But Harrison took the lead for good in the second inning with two runs and built up a 7-1 lead after four innings to clinch it. The Chargers scored their last run in the fifth, again Krick singled and moved to second on Bob Campbell's base hit. Devlin was struck by a wild pitch, loading the bases and winning pitcher Brent Homovec walked Steve Raymond to force in the run, then pitched himself out of a jam.

Churchill's once 'airtight' defense suddenly is porous

Northville exploded for four runs in the sixth inning to jolt Churchill 5-1. Losing pitcher Matt Krakowski had to endure four miscues by his teammates in accepting the defeat. He struck out three and walked an equal number.

Winning pitcher Brent Austin chalked up the league victory on a four-hitter.

The three consecutive losses dipped Churchill's over-all record to 2-4 while Frayer's Chargers are still looking for their first win in the conference after three starts. Churchill will attempt to regain some of its lost prestige Saturday when they compete in the Livonia City Tournament, named for the former Franklin High athletic director, Walt Cosens. The Chargers drew Stevenson in the first round of the tournament while Bentley takes on arch-foe, Livonia Franklin. The games are tentatively scheduled for Franklin but could be shifted under the lights at Ford Field.

Romulus -from riches to rags

Eagles bounce back from heartbreaker

There is renewed hope on the diamond at Romulus these days. Despite a heartbreaking 4-3 loss to Dearborn Heights Annapolis, Coach Dennis Stol's Eagles bounced back and drubbed Clarenceville 13-6 behind pitcher Russ Ayers' six-hitter.

"We had our ups and downs this week," Stol said, "and I was afraid that the last-inning setback to Annapolis would have its ill effects. But our team came back and showed they are maturing."

What happened against Annapolis was what Stol described as "incredible." Leading 2-1 going into the seventh inning, Romulus blew the lead and the Dearborn Heights' team tied it up, forcing the Eagles to play an extra inning. In the top of the eighth Romulus scored on a walk to Ayers, Steve Venier's sacrifice and Victor Bird's double.

But Annapolis came back in the bottom of the eighth and with one-out reliever Mike Williams walked Mike Berro and he also issued a walk to Tim St. Andrews, then got Bob Summers on a strikeout, but lost John Robertson on a walk to load the bases. Stol then called in Ayers who got the next out, then with two strikes on Mike Villar, Villar hit what appeared to be a harmless grounder which got through the shortstop's leg, allowing the two decisive runs to score.

The Eagles put the first two runs on the board in the first inning as Mike Johnson and John Bozelak singled, then Mike Brooke's fielder's choice allowed one run in and a passed ball and error brought the second run in.

Annapolis got one of those back in the third, then tied the game in the seventh.

Jim Sullivan started for Romulus on the mound and went 6 2-3 innings, struck out seven and walked three before Stol inserted Williams to take over the pitching chores.

"This game just shows how true the adage, 'the game isn't over until the last out' is," said Stol. "We did everything better than they did and that last out costs us the game."

Romulus took its frustrations out on Clarenceville as the Eagles erupted for five runs in the fifth and picked up three in the sixth to blast their visitors 13-6.

Ayers, the winning pitcher, scattered six hits and survived a six-run Clarenceville third inning. It was the junior righthanders first victory in four starts.

Mike Williams and Steve Venier each had three hits and three runs batted in as the Eagles routed loser Jeff Nabozny in the fifth inning.

Romulus scored four times in the sixth inning and Williams twirled a four-hitter as the Eagles edged New Boston Huron 4-3 in their first confrontation of the season. Williams whiffed 13, didn't walk a batter and pitched his best game this season.

Jim Umin, who worked the first five innings for Huron, was charged with the loss.

Umin gave up five consecutive singles to Mike Johnson, John Bozelak, Mike Brooks, Williams and Venier which proved his undoing in the sixth.

Huron's Tim Hinojosa belted a homer in the seventh.

Garden City East turned back Romulus 5-2 as the Panthers unleashed a 10-hit assault on Ayers who failed to get any defensive support from his mates. Romulus committed eight costly errors.

Romulus took the lead in the top of the first inning when Johnson singled, moved to second when Sullivan was safe on an error and both runners scored when Brooks' grounder to third went through to the outfield for an error.

But East came back and scored one run in that inning, tied it up at 2-all in the third before exploding for three big runs in the fourth.

'So Long'

Most Valuable Player Awards and John Long seem to go hand-in-hand at the University of Detroit, but they are not unappreciated by the flashy 6-5 senior forward who also was Romulus High's MVP in his senior year and an all-stater. Long set U-D career records for points (2167), field goals (940) and field goal attempts (1942) in his four-year career while being named to various All-American and All-District Teams and being invited to appear in the Aloha Classic. Named MVP as a sophomore and a junior, Long shared the award with fellow senior and co-captain Terry Tyler this season and received the accolades and thanks of hundreds of fans who attended the Hotel Annual Banquet held this year at the plush Plaza Hotel. The Titans amassed a 25-4 record for the second straight year.

Belleville thinclads seek 1st league win at Allen Park

If Belleville thinclads don't stop Allen Park on Thursday, Coach Dave Medley will probably push the panic button.

Unsuccessful in finding the Suburban 8 Conference victory column in their first three league meets, the Tigers hope to put the brakes to their skid at the expense of Allen Park.

"I feel it's now or never," said Medley after his Tigers lost a 97½ - 60½ decision to Edsel Ford, the defending league champs last week. "We're looking for our initial league win and on paper we have an edge, but it will be up to the team to prove it."

Belleville managed to claim seven of the 16 events from Edsel which dominated two of the three relays. The Tigers got a personal best toss from Bob Sayre's in the discus when he wound up with first place with a 123'6" performance. Also, Clarence Massey and Chris Koger picked up the shot put and long jump respectively, however, Koger lost in his bid for a double win when Edsel's Jeff Nowak cleared 6'6" to take the high jump.

Belleville also received a winning performance from Brian Brinkerhoff who posted a personal best time in the 330-yard low hurdles, finishing first with a 40.1 effort.

And Dexter Hubbard made his return to the hurdles a winning one as he covered the 120-yard high hurdles with a 15.0 seconds performance. Trailing Dexter across the finish line was teammate Mark Straight.

Mile relay clinches meet for Wayne gals

Defending champ Wayne Memorial knew it had to beat Lincoln Park if it hoped to repeat as the Great Lakes 8 Conference girls' track champ, and Coach Floyd Carter's team pulled it out.

Trailing by one point, 66-65, going into the last event, Carter put together a mile relay team consisting of Peggy Stevens, Debbie Plemmens Colleen O'Brien and Terri Discher who edged their counterparts by three seconds to put the event and the five points into their column.

That gave Wayne a 70-65 victory over the Parkers and also their second conference win.

"It was a good and important victory," said Carter. "I can't say enough about all of these girls, especially our mile relay team. When Debbie, who was our third runner, handed the baton to Colleen, it was anyone's race and Colleen turned the tide."

Wayne goes after its third conference and fourth victory in five starts Thursday at home to Riverview. The action begins at 4 p.m.

Public Notice Opportunity for Hearing

All interested persons are hereby advised that the Wayne County Road Commission is proposing the improvement of the Lotz Road bridge over Fellows Creek south of Cherry Hill, the Lotz Road culvert over Barker Drain north of Palmer, and the Van Born Road culvert over Horner Drain west of Belleville Road. The proposed improvements are to replace the structures with ones that will provide 24' wide roadways. These structures will be closed during construction. The Lotz Road structures will not be closed—at the same time.

In formation concerning these projects, including preliminary plans and an evaluation of the social, economic, and environmental aspects, is available for public review and copying at the Wayne County Road Commission office at 415 Clifford Street, Detroit, Michigan 48226.

These projects are proposed to receive Federal-Aid under the Urban Safe Off-System Program, and under provisions of Federal Law, any person who would be affected by the proposed improvements may request in writing that a formal Public Hearing be held concerning the social, economic, and environmental effects of these projects. Such a request should be mailed to Mr. Robert A. Larson, Director of Transportation at the above address. This request must be received on or before May 18, 1978.

Obituary

2. In Memoriam

There is so much Emptiness around here without my son, "Jerry". Sammie Howard Watkins Family, 34966 Richard, Wayne.

In Memory of My Wonderful Husband, George Medeiros. As I loved you, So I miss you. In my memory you are near. Loved, remembered, longed for always. Treasured with a love sincere. You are where I cannot see you, And your voice I cannot hear; Yet I know you walk beside me. Never absent, always near. Your Loving Wife, Helen, & Family.

3. Cards of Thanks

OUR HEARTFELT thanks to family, friends and neighbors who extended comforting sympathy and help in our recent sorrow. Special appreciation to Rev. Paul Richter for the beautiful service; for the floral offerings and other kindnesses. Special thanks to the Van Buren Police department. We are deeply grateful. The Family of Kathleen Banotai.

WE ARE THE BEST... LET US PROVE IT

RUSTPROOFING. EITHER YOU HAVE IT OR YOU DON'T

Car makers don't build the rustproof car and no car dealer can deliver the real rustproofing you get with the exclusive Ziebart process.

Don't be misled by some sweeping references to "anti-corrosion methods" used in building some 1977 cars. Real rust-proofing must be done after the car is built. And it must cover every critical area inside and under the car. That's the proven Ziebart method. There are no shortcuts. That's why your Ziebart Dealer uses nine different patented spray tools to reach rust-prone areas. That's why he uses a rustproofing sealant that actually penetrates welded seams where rust can start. Your Ziebart Dealer can deliver a rustproofed 1977 car because that's his business—and he knows it. Call him.

IT'S US. OR RUST.

MOTHER...
Where would we be without her?

Where would the day be without light?
Where would a ship be without a rudder?
Where would love be without heart? Where would learning be without wisdom?

All these guiding forces are exemplified by Motherhood. She is the light of our life, the loving heart of understanding, the wisdom that shapes our destinies.

On this Mother's Day, we again have a chance to tell her how much she means to us. You can do it effectively with a message in our Classified Section on May 10th.

Add a special touch to Mother's special day.
Mothers love to be appreciated.

The cost of a Mother's Day message is only $2.00 for 15 words. Extra words are 20¢ each. Deadline for placing your message is May 8th. Fill out coupon below and mail to:
